

NOTE: Spanish has two forms of address: tú (thou) and usted (you). The tú form is used when speaking to a friend, a familiar, or someone younger than you. The usted form is used at all other times. (Also note that Ud. is an abbreviation for usted and that the word tú is not always capitalized because the word ending indicates the subject.) In some places in the Spanish-speaking world, ni is used almost exclusively, whereas in other places, ni is used with almost everyone.

As you study morphology, be on the lookout for cognates. These are words from different languages that you spelled the same (or similar) and have the same (or similar) meanings. For example, monstruoso (Spanish) has cognates with several languages, including English, French, and Italian. If you know any of those languages, cognates can help you learn Spanish vocabulary. Cognates (see here).
