State Of The Worlds Cities Report 207:

State of the World's Cities 2010/11 Un-Habitat, 2010-08-12 The world's urban population now exceeds the world's rural population. What does this mean for the state of our cities given the strain this global demographic shift is placing upon current urban infrastructures? Following on from previous State of the World's Cities reports, this edition uses the framework of The Urban Divide to analyse the complex social, political, economic and cultural dynamics of urban environments. In particular, the book focuses on the concept of the right to the city and ways in which many urban dwellers are excluded from the advantages of city life, using the framework to explore links among poverty, inequality, slum formation and economic growth. The volume will be essential reading for all professionals and policymakers in the field as well as a valuable resource for researchers and students in all aspects of urban development. Published with UN Habitat.

State of the World's Cities 2012/2013 Un-Habitat, 2013-10-23 The city is the home of prosperity. It is the place where human beings find satisfaction of basic needs and access to essential public goods. The city is also where ambitions, aspirations and other material and immaterial aspects of life are realized, providing contentment and happiness. It is a locus at which the prospects of prosperity and individual and collective well-being can be increased. However, when prosperity is restricted to some groups, when it is used to pursue specific interests or when it is a justification for financial gains for the few to the detriment of the majority, the city becomes the arena where the right to shared prosperity is claimed and fought for. As people in the latter part of 2011 gathered in Cairo's Tahrir Square, in Madrid's Puerta del Sol, in front of London's St Paul's cathedral or in New York's Zuccotti Park, they were not only demanding more equality and inclusion; they were also expressing the need for prosperity to be shared across all segments of society. What this new edition of State of the World's Cities shows is that prosperity for all has been compromised by a narrow focus on economic growth. UN Habitat suggests a fresh approach to prosperity beyond the solely economic emphasis, including other vital dimensions such as quality of life, adequate infrastructures, equity and environmental sustainability. The Report proposes a new tool, the City Prosperity Index, together with a conceptual matrix, the Wheel of Prosperity, both of which are meant to assist decision makers to design clear policy interventions. The Report advocates for the need of cities to enhance the public realm, expand public goods and consolidate rights to the commons for all as a way to expand prosperity. This comes in response to the observed trend of enclosing or restricting these goods and commons in enclaves of prosperity or depleting them through unsustainable use. The Report maps out major policy steps to promote a new type of city, the city of the twenty-first century, that is a good, people-centred city. One that is capable of integrating the tangible and more intangible aspects of prosperity and, in the process, shedding off the inefficient, unsustainable forms and functionalities of the city of the previous century. By doing this, UN Habitat plays a pivotal role in ensuring that urban planning, legal, regulatory and institutional frameworks become instruments of prosperity and well-being.

State of the World's Cities 2010/2011, 2010 One billion people worldwide live in slums and that figure is predicted to reach 2 billion by 2030 This new volume from UN HABITAT unpacks the complex social and economic issues using the novel conceptual framework of the urban divide State of the World's Cities 2008/9 Un-Habitat,2012-05-04 Cities are perhaps one of humanity s most complex creations never finished never definitive They are like a journey that never ends Their evolution is determined by their ascent into greatness or their descent into decline They are the past the present and the future Cities contain both order and chaos In them reside beauty and ugliness virtue and vice They can bring out the best or the worst in humankind They are the physical manifestation of history and culture and incubators of innovation industry technology entrepreneurship and creativity Cities are the materialization of humanity s noblest ideas ambitions and aspirations but when not planned or governed properly can be the repository of society s ills Cities drive national economies by creating wealth enhancing social development and providing employment but they can also be the breeding grounds for poverty exclusion and environmental degradation The 21st Century is the Century of the City Half of humanity now lives in cities and within the next two decades 60 per cent of the world s people will reside in urban areas How can city planners and policymakers harmonize the various interests diversity and inherent contradictions within cities What ingredients are needed to create harmony between the physical social environmental and cultural aspects of a city and the human beings that inhabit it This report adopts the concept of Harmonious Cities as a theoretical framework in order to understand today s urban world and also as an operational tool to confront the most important challenges facing urban areas and their development processes It recognizes that tolerance diversity social justice and good governance all of which are inter related are as important to sustainable urban development as physical planning It addresses national concerns by searching for solutions at the city level For that purpose it focuses on three key areas spatial or regional harmony which examines the main drivers of urban growth in the developing world and explores the spatial nuances of economic and social policies social harmony which presents and analyzes new data on urban inequalities worldwide and describes the types of shelter deprivations experienced by slum dwellers in developing world regions and environmental harmony which examines the role of cities in the climate change debate and the impact of global warming on the most vulnerable cities The report also assesses the various intangible assets within cities that contribute to harmony such as cultural heritage sense of place and memory and the complex set of social and symbolic relationships that give cities meaning It argues that these intangible assets represent the soul of the city and are as important for harmonious urban development as tangible assets Harmony within cities argues the report is both a journey and a destination Published with UN HABITAT World Cities Report 2024 UN-HABITAT,2024-11-05 The World Cities Report 2024 will advance a people centred approach to climate action that promotes effective and inclusive climate action as a framework for building climate resilience in urban areas The WCR 2024 advocates that people must be at the centre of any meaningful climate action In this regard climate action should not only contribute to mitigating GHG emissions adapting and reversing the effects as of climate change but should ensure that people have sustainable livelihoods and stable
