The Ultimate World War II Quiz Book Kieran Whitworth, 2017-09-14 Published in association with the Imperial War Museums this book contains over 1 000 questions and answers if you need them and will provide the ultimate challenge to even the most knowledgeable military historian CIS US Congressional Committee Hearings Index: 79th Congress-82nd Congress, 1945-1952 (6 v.), 1981 The 1998-2000 Eritrea-Ethiopia War and Its Aftermath in International Legal Perspective Andrea de Guttry, Harry H. G. Post, Gabriella Venturini, 2021-04-01 This book centres on the war that raged between Eritrea and Ethiopia from 1998 to 2000 a war that caused great loss of life and tremendous devastation It analyses the war in great detail from an international legal perspective the nature and the state of the boundary conflict preceding the actual armed conflict the military actions themselves the role of the UN peace keeping mission the responsibility for the multitude of explosive remnants of the war left behind Ample attention is paid to the decisions of the Eritrea Ethiopia Claims Commission and the Eritrea Ethiopia Boundary Commission This study is not limited to the war and the period immediately following it it also examines its more extended aftermath prolonging the analysis as far as the more recent improvement in the relations between Eritrea and Ethiopia away from a situation of no war no peace that prevailed after the armed conflict ended The analysis of the war and its aftermath is not only in terms of international legal issues it has been placed in a wider than strictly legal perspective The book is a valuable work for academics and practitioners in international law human rights and humanitarian law in particular for political scientists diplomats civil servants historians and all those others seriously interested in the Horn of Africa Andrea de Guttry is Full Professor of Public International Law at the Scuola Superiore Sant Anna in Pisa Italy Harry H G Post is Adjunct Professor in the Facult  Libre de Droit of the Universit  Catholique de Lille in Lille France Gabriella Venturini is Professor Emerita in the Dipartimento di Studi internazionali giuridici e storico politici of the Universit  degli Studi di Milano in Milan Italy Brazil and the United States during World War II and Its Aftermath Frank D. McCann, 2018-08-24 The military alliance between the United States and Brazil played a critical role in the outcome of World War II and yet it is largely overlooked in historiography of the war In this definitive account Frank McCann investigates Brazilian American military relations from the 1930s through the years after the alliance ended in 1977 The two countries emerge as imbalanced giants with often divergent objectives and expectations They nevertheless managed to form the Brazilian Expeditionary Force and a fighter squadron that fought in Italy under American command making Brazil the only Latin American country to commit troops to the war With the establishment of the US Air Force base in Natal Northeast Brazil became a vital staging area for air traffic supplying Allied forces in the Middle East and Asian theaters McCann deftly analyzes newly opened Brazilian archives and declassified American intelligence files to offer a more nuanced account of how this alliance changed the course of World War II and how the relationship deteriorated in the aftermath of the war The EU, NATO and the Libya Conflict Stefano Marcuzzi, 2021-12-24 This book explores the causes and implications of the Libyan crisis since the anti Gaddafi uprisings of 2011 from the perspective of the EU and NATO It asks the question of why those organizations failed to stabilize the country despite the serious challenges posed by the protracted crisis to European and transatlantic stakes in the region This book argues that such failure originated in a twofold problem common to both organizations their prioritization of legitimacy over strategy and their path dependence the insufficient degree of adaptation to meet the different needs of the crisis Through a critical and integrated analysis of official sources and extensive interviews with EU NATO UN and national government officials and militaries as well as from NGO personnel Libyan institutions and civil society and media the volume brings the perspective of both state and non state actors to the fore It reveals how wrong assumptions and centrifugal forces within the EU and NATO hampered initiatives and how the inability to use hard power judiciously and effectively in an increasingly complex and multifaceted scenario worsened the crisis This allowed for unprecedented influence of regional and global competitors such as Egypt the United Arab Emirates UAE Turkey and Russia in the richest African country This book will be of key interest for scholars and students of Libya and North Africa NATO the European Union security and conflict studies Middle East studies migration terrorism peacebuilding and more broadly international relations

The Manhattan Project Nova Ashford, In the early decades of the 20th century the field of nuclear physics was evolving rapidly The discovery of radioactivity by scientists such as Marie Curie and Henri Becquerel had opened a new frontier in science one that would have far reaching implications The study of the atom was quickly becoming a cornerstone of modern physics The understanding of nuclear reactions and the potential for releasing energy from the atom began to gain attention from both the scientific community and political leaders By the 1930s European physicists like Niels Bohr Enrico Fermi and Lise Meitner had made significant strides in understanding nuclear fission Fission the process in which the nucleus of an atom splits into smaller parts releases an enormous amount of energy This discovery made in the late 1930s set the stage for the possibility of creating an atomic bomb The theoretical foundations were laid but it was not until the rise of Nazi Germany and the looming threat of global conflict that the development of such a weapon became a priority The specter of Nazi Germany advancing its own nuclear weapons program prompted a sense of urgency among scientists and governments worldwide In 1938 German scientists Otto Hahn and Fritz Strassmann discovered uranium fission a key step in understanding how nuclear weapons could be made This discovery was a turning point as the potential for Nazi Germany to develop such a weapon sparked grave concern in the United States and the United Kingdom Many leading scientists including Albert Einstein and Leo Szilard feared that Adolf Hitler s regime would soon possess the capability to harness atomic power for military purposes potentially tipping the balance of power in favor of the Axis powers

Myth of Liberal Ascendancy G. Williams Domhoff, 2015-11-17 Based on new archival research G Williams Domhoff challenges popular conceptions of the 1930 s New Deal Arguing instead that this period was one of increasing corporate dominance in government affairs affecting the fate of American workers up to the present day While FDR s New Deal brought sweeping legislation the tide turned quickly after 1938 From that year onward nearly every major new economic law passed by Congress showed the mark of corporate dominance Domhoff accessibly portrays documents of the Committee's vital influence in the halls of government supported by his interviews with several of its key employees and trustees Domhoff concludes that in terms of economic influence liberalism was on a long steady decline despite two decades of post war growing equality and that ironically it was the successes of the civil rights feminist environmental and gay lesbian movements not a new corporate mobilisation that led to the final defeat of the liberal labour alliance after 1968
