E. de Haas, 1928 Language in Literature Jonathan Locke

Hart, 2024-10-15 Language in Literature examines the overlap and blurring boundaries of English comparative and world poetry and literature. Questions of language, literature, translation, and creative writing are addressed as befitting an author who is a poet, literary scholar, and historian. The book begins with metaphor, which Aristotle thought in Poetics was the key gift of the poet, and discusses it in theory and practice. It moves from the identity of metaphor to identity in translation and culture. It examines poetry in a comparative and world context. It looks at image and text. It explores literature and culture in the Cold War. It explores the role of the poet and scholar in translating poetry East and West. It places creative writing in theory and practice in context East and West. It concludes by summing up and suggesting implications of creation in language, translating and interpreting, and its expression in literature, especially in poetry.
