Designing for the Third Age Lorraine

Farrelly, 2014-04-28 Highlights how architecture needs to rise to the challenge of a demographic revolution As people sixty five and older constitute an ever increasingly proportion of population in most industrialized nations the design of housing and other built provisions needs to be rethought in order to accommodate this ever expanding ageing population How can far reaching architectural solutions play a key part by creating sustainable cities for the changing profile of the population reducing models of dependency for care and transport while creating opportunities for recreation leisure and work This issue reflects on the population challenges facing Europe Australia North America and Asia offering innovative responses to these problems on a practical and speculative level Addresses a major social issue for architects designers and students Includes contributions from Arup Global Foresight Innovation Baroness Greengross President of the International Longevity Centre UK Matthias Hollwich of HWKN Jerry Maltz of AIANY Design for Aging David Birbeck of Design for Homes Edward Denison Research Associate at University College London Kathryn Firth of the London Legacy Development Corporation Richard Mazuch of IBI Nightingale architect Walter Menteth author Jayne Merkel architect writer and researcher Terri Peters Anjali Raje Executive Director of International Longevity Centre India and architect Radhika Vaidya Robert Schmidt of the Adaptable Futures research group at Loughborough University Sally Stewart of Glasgow School of Architecture Mark Taylor of The University of Newcastle and Katherine Wilkinson of RMIT Features architects including Amie Gross Architects Ariktema Dattner Architects HWKN Deborah Gans Gans Studio JJW Architects Henning Larsen Architects Michael Maltzan Architecture nARCHITECTS Nord Architects PRP Architects and Yanmin Zhou Design Review Brenda C.

Scheer, Wolfgang F.E. Preiser, 2012-12-06 That the topic of design review is somehow trou My biases are clear from the start I am among blesome is probably one thing all readers can those who believe that despite all signals to the contrary the physical structure of our environ agree on Beyond this however I suspect pros pects of consensus are dim Differing opinions ment can be managed and that controlling it is on the subject likely range from those desiring the key to the amelioration of numerous problems control to those desiring freedom Say one camp confronting society today I believe that design our physical and natural environments are going can solve a host of problems and that the design to hell in a hand basket Says the other design of the physical environment does influence be review boards are only as good as their members havior more often than not their interventions produce Clearly this is a perspective that encompasses mediocre architecture more than one building at a time and demands As a town planner and architect I am sympa that each building understand its place in a larger thetic to the full range of sentiment Perhaps a context the city Indeed anyone proposing discussion of these two concepts control and physical solutions to urban problems is designing freedom and their differences would now be or as may seem more often the case destroying useful But let me instead suggest that both posi the city Approaching Urban

Design Marion Roberts, Clara Greed, 2014-06-06 This companion to Introducing Urban Design Interventions and Responses shows how the principles and concepts of urban design can be applied and implemented in a range of real world settings

Urban Ecological Design Danilo Palazzo, Frederick R. Steiner, 2012-06-22 This trailblazing book outlines an interdisciplinary process model for urban design that has been developed and tested over time Its goal is not to explain how to design a specific city precinct or public space but to describe useful steps to approach the transformation of urban spaces Urban Ecological Design illustrates the different stages in which the process is organized using theories techniques images and case studies In essence it presents a how to method to transform the urban landscape that is thoroughly informed by theory and practice The authors note that urban design is viewed as an interface between different disciplines They describe the field as peacefully overrun invaded and occupied by city planners architects engineers and landscape architects with developers and politicians frequently joining in They suggest that environmental concerns demand the consideration of ecology and sustainability issues in urban design It is after all the urban designer who helps to orchestrate human relationships with other living organisms in the built environment The overall objective of the book is to reinforce the role of the urban designer as an honest broker and promoter of design processes and as an active agent of social creativity in the production of the public realm
