The Gender of Death Karl S. Guthke,1999 Why is it that in some cultures and times literature folklore and art commonly represent death as a man in others as a woman Karl S Guthke shows that these choices which often contradict the grammatical gender of the word death in the language concerned are neither arbitrary nor accidental In earlier centuries the gender of the figure of death contributed to the interpretation of biblical narrative in particular whether the original sin was that of Adam or Eve and also reflected the importance of the classical figure of Thanatos More recently the gender of death as angel lover or bride whether terrifying or welcome has carried powerful psychological and social connotations Tracing the gender of representations of death in art and literature from medieval times to the present day Guthke offers astonishing new insights into the nature and perception of the Western self in its cultural intellectual and literary context      Saints, Sacrilege and Sedition Eamon Duffy,2014-04-23 Eamon Duffy publishes a book on the broad sweep of English Reformation Rosenhaft,2021-02-10 This open access book provides a concise introduction to a critical development in memory studies A global memory formation has emerged since the 1990s in which memories of traumatic histories in different parts of the world often articulated in the terms established by Holocaust memory have become entangled reconciled contested conflicted and negotiated across borders As historical actors and events across time and space become connected in new ways new grounds for contest and competition arise claims to the past that appeared de territorialized in the global memory formation become re territorialized deployed in the service of nationalist projects This poses challenges to scholarship but also to practice How can we ensure that shared or comparable memories of past injustice continue to be grounds for solidarity between different memory communities In chapters focusing on Europe East Asia and Africa five scholars respond to these challenges from a range of disciplinary perspectives in the humanities      The Irish Ecclesiastical Record ,1908
