University Of North West Prospectus For 2016 Undergraduate:

Bright Star in the Present Prospect Ian Dunn, 2015-10-19 An illustrated history of the University of Chester charting its progress from the foundation as Chester Diocesan Training College in 1839 to the achievement of university status in 2005 and subsequent consolidation as a leading higher education institution in the region      Handbook on Green

Infrastructure Danielle Sinnett, Nick Smith, Sarah Burgess, 2015-11-27 Green infrastructure encompasses many features in the built environment. It is widely recognised as a valuable resource in our towns and cities and it is therefore crucial to understand, create, protect and manage this resource. This Handbook sets the context for green infrastructure as a means to make urban environments more resilient, sustainable, liveable and equitable. Including state of the art reviews that summarise the existing knowledge as well as research findings, this Handbook provides current evidence for the beneficial impact of green infrastructure on health, environmental quality and the economy. It discusses the planning and design of green infrastructure as a strategic network down to the individual features in a neighbourhood and looks at the process of green infrastructure implementation, emphasising the importance of collaboration across multiple professions and sectors. This comprehensive volume operates at multiple spatial scales from strategic networks at the regional level to individual features in neighbourhoods, with international case studies used throughout to illustrate key examples of good practice. This collection of expert contributions will be invaluable to students and academics in the fields of planning, urban studies and geography. Practitioners and policy makers will also find the policy discussion and examples enlightening.      Self-Tracking Btihaj Ajana, 2017-10-01 This book provides an empirical and philosophical investigation of self-tracking practices. In recent years there has been an explosion of apps and devices that enable the data capturing and monitoring of everyday activities, behaviours and habits. Encouraged by movements such as the Quantified Self, a growing number of people are embracing this culture of quantification and tracking in the spirit of improving their health and wellbeing. The aim of this book is to enhance understanding of this fast-growing trend, bringing together scholars who are working at the forefront of the critical study of self-tracking practices. Each chapter provides a different conceptual lens through which one can examine these practices while grounding the discussion in relevant empirical examples. From phenomenology to discourse analysis, from questions of identity, privacy and agency to issues of surveillance and tracking at the workplace, this edited collection takes on a wide and yet focused approach to the timely topic of self-tracking. It constitutes a useful companion for scholars, students and everyday users interested in the Quantified Self phenomenon.      One Korea Tae-Hwan Kwak, Seung-Ho Joo, 2016-11-10 On the Korean peninsula there exist two sovereign states: the Republic of Korea (ROK) or South Korea and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK) or North Korea, both of whom hold separate membership at the United Nations. This book discusses the construction of one Korea and highlights the potential benefits of unification for the Koreans and the international community. Arguing that Korean unification is intrinsically international in nature, the authors outline how the process and outcome would impact upon the policies of the four major powers the U S China Russia and Japan In addition the authors highlight the possible far reaching repercussions of unification on the political and economic dynamics of Northeast Asia Making a case for the two Koreas and interested powers to plan and orchestrate their acts for sustained peace and gradual unification on the Korean peninsula this book examines the Korean question and the related issue of peace building in Northeast Asia from a global perspective It will be of interest to students and scholars researching politics and international relations

Reconstructing the Landscapes of Slavery Dale W. Tomich,Rafael de Bivar Marquese,Carlos Venegas Fornias,Reinaldo Funes Monzote,2021-03-19 Assessing a unique collection of more than eighty images this innovative study of visual culture reveals the productive organization of plantation landscapes in the nineteenth century Atlantic world These landscapes from cotton fields in the Lower Mississippi Valley to sugar plantations in western Cuba and coffee plantations in Brazil s Para ba Valley demonstrate how the restructuring of the capitalist world economy led to the formation of new zones of commodity production By extension these environments radically transformed slave labor and the role such labor played in the expansion of the global economy Artists and mapmakers documented in surprising detail how the physical organization of the landscape itself made possible the increased exploitation of enslaved labor Reading these images today one sees how technologies combined with evolving conceptions of plantation management that reduced enslaved workers to black bodies Planter control of enslaved people s lives and labor maximized the production of each crop in a calculated system of production Nature too was affected the massive increase in the scale of production and new systems of cultivation increased the land s output Responding to world economic conditions the replication of slave based commodity production became integral to the creation of mass markets for cotton sugar and coffee which remain at the center of contemporary life
