that it is covertly triumphalistic and that it mirrors the logic of exclusivism With the exception of pioneers in the field such as John Hick and Paul Knitter most major figures in this theological field have retreated from pluralism and promote versions of particularism and inclusivism Pluralism The Future of Religion argues for an apophatic pluralism that is motivated by the insight that it is impossible to secure universal assent for changeable bodies of religious teachings This insight implies the non finality and consequent departicularization of all religious teachings and their inclusivistic defenses These conclusions point us inevitably toward pluralism and lead us out of the inclusivistic impasse of contemporary theology in religions

Is Faith in God Reasonable? Corey Miller, Paul Gould, 2014-04-03 The question of whether faith in God is reasonable is of renewed interest in today's academy In light of this interest as well as the rise of militant religion and terrorism and the emergent reaction by neo atheism this volume considers this important question from the views of contemporary scientists philosophers and in a more novel fashion of rhetoricians It is comprised of a public debate between William Lane Craig supporting the position that faith in God is reasonable and Alex Rosenberg arguing against that position
