The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-29 In an era when corporate and political leaders are using their power to control every aspect of the schooling process in North America there has been surprisingly little research on the impact of textbook content on students The contributors of this volume and its partner The New Politics of the Textbook Problematizing the Portrayal of Marginalized Groups in Textbooks guide educators school administrators academics and other concerned citizens to unpack the political social and cultural influences inherent in the textbooks of core content areas such as math science English and social science They urge readers to reconsider the role textbooks play in the creation of students political social and moral development and in perpetuating asymmetrical social and economic relationships where social actors are bestowed unearned privileges and entitlements based upon their race gender sexuality class religion and linguistic background Finally they suggest ways to resist the hegemony of those texts through critical analyses critical questioning and critical pedagogies

Comparative Sociology of Examinations Fumiya Onaka, 2019-03-28 Contemporary societies are constructed constricted and constrained by various series of examinations Governments of both Western and non Western countries tend to conduct detailed multi layered and continuous systems of tests or examinations International tests such as PISA and TIMSS have also been introduced to compare the relative performances of learners within diverse educational institutions across different countries Examinations therefore provide a methodological pivot for comparing a range of societies They enable us to contrast the West and the East the North and the South tribal and mass society ancient and postmodern civilization and so on Comparing parallel societies from across Asia the Middle East Europe and North America this book proposes fundamental transitions in sociological research from system to process and from communication to composition through intensive studies on examinations It uses ethnographies interviews questionnaires documents statistics and big data analyses to make comparisons on broad scales of time and space In so doing it suggests hypotheses encompassing different kinds of societies in human history including those in the Axial Age and the Modern Ages
