The Palmwine Drinkard English Edition:

Landscaping Postcoloniality. The Dissemination of Cameroon Anglophone Literature Joyce Ashuntantang, 2009

This is a foundational text on the production and dissemination of Anglophone Cameroon literature. The Republic of Cameroon is a bilingual country with English and French as the official languages. Ashuntantang shows that the pattern of production and dissemination of Anglophone Cameroon literature is not only framed by the minority status of English and English speaking Cameroonians within the Republic of Cameroon but is also a reflection of a postcolonial reality in Africa where mostly African literary texts published by western multi national corporations are assured wide international accessibility and readership. This book establishes that in spite of these setbacks Anglophone Cameroon writers have produced a corpus of work that has enriched the genres of prose poetry and drama and that these texts deserve a wider readership.

The Palm-Wine Drinkard Amos Tutuola, 2014. The Palm Wine Drinkard is the phantasmagorical story of an alcoholic man and his search for his dead wine tapster. As he travels through the land of the dead he encounters a host of supernatural and often terrifying beings among them the complete gentleman who returns his body parts to their owners, the insatiable hungry creature and his own pyromaniac son.

Five Decades D. S. Rao, 2004. On the completion of fiftieth year of Sahitya Akademi.

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30. Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world. Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect. In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories. In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide.

Anticolonial Form Alexandra Reza, 2024-01-24. Anticolonial Form: Literary Journals at the End of Empire addresses the relationship between culture and politics in two journals published in Europe by African writers. Presence Africaine launched in Paris in 1947 and Mensagem published between 1948 and 1964 in Lisbon. Grounded in extensive archival work, the book argues for a comparative and transnational approach to postcolonial literary studies for the significance of the literary journal as a key form in the development of African writing in French, Portuguese and English and for a historically and geographically contingent understanding of the relationships between literature, culture and politics. This book takes up the idea of articulation to bring forward the contingent and fugitive connections that networks of literary journals fostered between francophone, anglophone and lusophone writers in the conjuncture of decolonization in the 1950s and 1960s. It argues that comparison as a praxis and a method was central to the anticolonial charge of those journals, on whose pages we see an iterative back and forth between writing from and about different parts of the colonial world, a recursive effort to establish how ideas and analyses developed.

in one part of the colonial world could travel and be adopted and adapted in others Many scholars have argued convincingly that the institutionalized practice of comparison in the academic field of comparative literature is itself imbricated with histories of colonialism Reza s argument takes on a particular significance in the context of that critique as the anticolonial comparison on which she focuses offers a different tradition of relational praxis from which to think about connection and comparison itself

Nigerian Speculative Fiction Chukwunonso Ezeiyoke, 2025-05-30 This book is an exciting addition to a gap in non Western genre studies of African fiction It challenges the dominant canonicity of African literature which is overshadowed by texts concerned with the colonial discourse and writing back while exploring speculative themes in Nigerian fiction and writing that stem from an African cosmology and culture The book examines important twentieth century precursors of the post millennial boom in Nigerian Speculative Fiction SF reading texts that were omitted from the Nigerian literary canon developed in the 1960s It combines an analysis of recent fiction and criticism with a historical overview of the development of the under researched area of Nigerian SF Through these readings the author demonstrates the range of concerns explored by Nigerian SF including futurism posthumanism horror fantasy and science fiction among others This book argues that these narratives exceed the binary implicitly sustained by the texts that write back to the West and offers new readings of contemporary Nigerian SF works that imagine futures different from the past and present conditions imposed by capitalism colonialism and imperialism Providing new theoretical tools and concepts this book in the Studies in Global Genre Fiction series will be of interest to readers and scholars working in the fields of African studies African culture and society literature and language interdisciplinary literary studies area studies literary criticism and genre studies History and Cultures of Nigeria Up to AD 2000 Akinjide Osuntokun,David Aworawo,Florence Masajuwa,2003 The Languages of West Africa Diedrich Westermann,M. A. Bryan,2017-09-22 This volume originally published in 1970 presents a survey of the languages spoken in an area extending from the Atlantic coast at the Sengal River eastward to the Lake Chad region The area covered by this volume is mainly a geographical one so it follows that not all the languages included are related to one another though a certain degree of homogeneity appears
