from the physical ruins and inscriptions that lay neglected around the shores of the Mediterranean As an international merchant Cyriacus of Ancona was accustomed to the perils of travel in foreign lands unlike his more scholarly peers with their handsome libraries and wealthy patrons who benefited greatly from the discoveries communicated in his widely distributed letters and drawings Having seen firsthand the destruction of the world's cultural heritage Cyriacus resolved to preserve it for future generations To do so he would spy on the Ottomans court popes and emperors and even organize a crusade

Joyce, Race and 'Finnegans Wake' Len Platt, 2007-01-11 Len Platt charts a fresh approach through one of the great masterpieces of twentieth century literature Using original archival research and detailed close readings he outlines Joyce's literary response to the racial discourse of twentieth century politics Platt's account is the first to position Finnegans Wake in precise historical conditions and to explore Joyce's engagement with European fascism Race Platt claims is a central theme for Joyce both in terms of the colonial and post colonial conflicts between the Irish and the British and in terms of its use by the extreme right It is in this context that Joyce's engagement with race while certainly a product of colonial relations also figures as a wider disputation with rationalism capitalism and modernity

The Multiverse as Theory in Postmodern Speculative Fictional Narratives Angélica Cabrera Torrecilla, Francisco Sáez de Adana, 2024-11-15 The Multiverse as Theory in Postmodern Speculative Fictional Narratives considers the concept of the multiverse beyond the immediacy of being merely an excuse or scenario for the development of stories instead positioning the multiverse as a theoretical method in which speculative fiction narratives can explore diverse issues to bridge ideas across cultural social and philosophical analysis Taking a cross cultural approach the book centres around the critical engagements that literary and media texts have with the representations of the multiverse beyond considering this subject as a mere rhetorical flourish or a passing fad A diverse and international team of authors engage with the multiverse from the point of view of other worlds understanding it not as the appearance of another independent world but as the collision of two or more different worlds into one of them From this key finding the multiverse encourages us to pay attention to the influence that fiction exerts on narratives and world building providing possible frameworks to rethink critical aspects of temporality space self society and culture in contemporary times This pioneering work will interest students and scholars working in the areas of media and cultural studies comparative literature popular culture studies speculative fiction and transmedia studies
