of a company's outstanding shares of stock. It is calculated by multiplying the current share price by the total number of outstanding shares. Market cap is used to assess a company's size and is often classified into categories such as large cap, mid cap, and small cap.

7 What are dividends? Answer: Dividends are payments made by a corporation to its shareholders, typically out of profits. They are usually paid quarterly and can be in the form of cash or additional shares. Dividends are a way for companies to share their profits with their investors.

8 What is technical analysis? Answer: Technical analysis involves analysing historical price and volume data of stocks to forecast future price movements. It uses various charts and indicators like moving averages, Relative Strength Index (RSI), and Bollinger Bands to identify trends and trading opportunities.

9 What is fundamental analysis? Answer: Fundamental analysis involves evaluating a company's financial health and performance by analysing its financial statements, management, industry position, and economic factors. Key metrics include earnings, revenue, growth, debt levels, and profit margins. This approach helps assess the intrinsic value of a stock.

10 What is the difference between stocks and bonds? Answer: Stocks represent ownership in a company, and shareholders can benefit from dividends and capital appreciation. Bonds are debt instruments issued by companies or governments. Bondholders receive fixed interest payments (coupons) and the principal amount when the bond matures. Bonds are generally considered safer than stocks.

11 What are stock exchanges? Answer: Stock exchanges are centralized platforms where securities are bought and sold. Examples include the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), NASDAQ, London Stock Exchange (LSE), and Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE). These exchanges ensure transparency and facilitate fair trading of stocks.

For example, in a 2 for 1 stock split, shareholders receive two shares for every one they currently own.

14 Explain the concept of a P/E ratio. Answer: The Price to Earnings (P/E) ratio is a measure of a company's stock price relative to its earnings per share (EPS). It is calculated by dividing the market price per share by the earnings per share. A high P/E ratio can indicate that the stock is overvalued, while a low P/E ratio may suggest it is undervalued.

15 What is a margin account? Answer: A margin account allows an investor to borrow money from a brokerage firm to purchase securities using their existing investments as collateral. While margin trading amplifies potential returns, it also increases the risk of losses if the value of the investment declines.

16 What is a trading volume? Answer: Trading volume refers to the number of shares or contracts traded in a given period, typically measured daily. High trading volume can indicate strong interest and liquidity in a particular stock, while low trading volume might suggest less investor interest.
