UAE and the Gulf George Katodrytis, Kevin Mitchell, 2015-05-08 At the end of the 20th century Dubai attracted international media attention as the world sought to make sense of the city's extraordinary growth Exuberant projects such as the Burj Arab the Burj Khalifa and the Palm Islands attracted investment in dreams to transform the region While the global financial crisis kept dreams from becoming reality this issue of AD seeks to present a view of architecture and urbanism in the United Arab Emirates UAE and other states in the wider Gulf Cooperation Council GCC at a time when greater economic stability promises new beginnings The issue presents examples of architecture that transcends preoccupation with fabricating images and traces the process of making contemporary Gulf cities from material tectonics to large scale masterplans By presenting the architecture of UAE and the Gulf within the context of broader regional developments and global trends it highlights how projects in the UAE Qatar Kuwait and Saudi Arabia have contributed to unprecedented urban growth while emphasising the continuing environmental challenges of building in the region In addition to highlighting various sustainable initiatives intended to counteract these challenges the issue also explores how computational design and new technologies are being innovatively employed to mitigate the impact of arid climates Contributors include Ameena Ahmadi
