The Patchwork of World History in Texas High Schools Stephen Jackson, 2022-11-30 This book traces the historical development of the World History course as it has been taught in high school classrooms in Texas a populous and nationally influential state over the last hundred years Arguing that the course is a result of a patchwork of competing groups and ideas that have intersected over the past century with each new framework patched over but never completely erased or replaced the author crucially examines themes of imperialism Eurocentrism and nationalism in both textbooks and the curriculum more broadly The first part of the book presents an overview of the World History course supported by numerical analysis of textbook content and public documents while the second focuses on the depiction of non Western peoples and persistent narratives of Eurocentrism and nationalism It ultimately offers that a more global accurate and balanced curriculum is possible despite the tension between the ideas of professional world historians who often de center the nation state in their quest for a truly global approach to the subject and the historical core rationale of state sponsored education in the United States to produce loyal citizens Offering a new conceptual understanding of how colonial themes in World History curriculum have been dealt with in the past and are now engaged with in contemporary times it provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum studies and the teaching of World History in the United States World History (Student) James P. Stobaugh, James Stobaugh, 2012 A new series from respected educator Dr James Stobaugh that takes you on a journey through history without the filters of revisionist or anti Christian perspectives This book is designed for a year s worth of study 34 powerful weeks of historical viewpoints A summary sets the stage for learning so the student can enjoy a daily lesson with thought provoking questions and an exam that takes place every fifth day Historical content covered in this volume includes the following Mesopotamia the Jewish Exile Egyptian Life Greece Life in Athens Roman Life Early Church History Japanese History Indian South Asian History Persian History Chinese History the Middle Ages the Crusades the Renaissance the Reformation German History the World Wars and South Africa Page 4 of cover

The Material of World History Tina Mai Chen, David S. Churchill, 2015-03-27 This volume considers the confluence of World History and historical materialism with the following guiding question in mind given developments in the field of historical materialism concerned with the intersection of race gender labour and class why is it that within the field of World History historical materialism has been marginalized precisely as World History orients toward transnational socio cultural phenomenon micro studies or global histories of networks Answering this question requires thinking in an inter related manner about both the development of World History as a discipline and the place of economic determinism in historical materialism This book takes the position that historical materialism as applied to the field of World History needs to be more open to the methodological diversity of the materialist tradition and to refuse narrowly deterministic frameworks that have led to marginalization of materialist cultural analysis in studies of global capitalism At the same time World History needs to be more self critical of the methodological diversity it has welcomed through a largely inclusionary framework that allows the material to be considered separately from cultural social and intellectual dimensions of global processes

World History Candice Goucher, Linda Walton, 2013-03-12 World History Journeys from Past to Present uses common themes to present an integrated and comprehensive survey of human history from its origins to the present day By weaving together thematic and regional perspectives in coherent chronological narratives Goucher and Walton transform the overwhelming sweep of the human past into a truly global story that is relevant to the contemporary issues of our time Revised and updated throughout the second edition of this innovative textbook combines clear chronological progression with thematically focused chapters divided into six parts as follows PART 1 EMERGENCE Human origins to 500 CE PART 2 ORDER 1 CE 1500 CE PART 3 CONNECTIONS 500 1600 CE PART 4 BRIDGING WORLDS 1300 1800 CE PART 5 TRANSFORMING LIVES 1500 1900 PART 6 FORGING A GLOBAL COMMUNITY 1800 Present The expanded new edition features an impressive full color design with a host of illustrations maps and primary source excerpts integrated throughout Chapter opening timelines supply context for the material ahead while end of chapter questions and annotated additional resources provide students with the tools for independent study Each chapter and part boasts introductory and summary
