SynchTV Premium Lesson on Beverly Cleary's Dear Mr. Henshaw

Overview

Beverly Cleary (b. April 12, 1916) is one of the most successful living children's authors, having penned more than thirty books in the genre, many of them now considered classics. Among these classics is the 1964 novel Dear Mr. Henshaw, winner of the Newbery Medal for children's literature and selected in 2007 as one of the Teachers' Top 100 Books for Children by the National Education Association. The novel follows Leigh Botts, an elementary school student who writes letters to his favorite author, the fictional Boyd Henshaw, and is surprised one day to find a response in the mail from Mr. Henshaw himself. Dear Mr. Henshaw is an epistolary novel, meaning that the story and its events are relayed through a series of documents: first, as Leigh's letters and Mr. Henshaw's responses; then, as Leigh takes heed of Mr. Henshaw's advice, the novel becomes Leigh's own personal diary, which Leigh uses to work through the problems plaguing him. In the Premium Lesson, students will read two excerpts from Leigh's diary in Dear Mr. Henshaw, exploring his struggles at school and his complex thoughts about his absent father. The novel's diary format will allow students a close vantage point from which to analyze Leigh's experiences and to compare them with their own. After a close-reading, students will participate in class- and group-led discussions about the story and its characters, and will then write critical responses to the text consistent with the ELA Common Core Standards for the third grade.
