

Essay #1: Finding Common Ground

Diving into an argument is very difficult to do. Imagine you are invited to a cocktail party and you arrive 30 minutes late. You walk into the ballroom and there are already 50 people there. There are numerous conversations going on; some of which have been going on for half an hour. You randomly pick out a group of 4 people to approach and socialize by getting involved with their conversation. You walk up, introduce yourself, and then listen in to what they are talking about. It takes time to get glued into the conversation so that you can contribute. This situation is analogous to writing our first essay, Finding Common Ground. Over the course of WRIT 112, you'll develop the reading, writing, and research skills to write mature, researched papers. But the first step is to know how to get involved in a researched topic.

Write an essay analyzing at least two essays/TED Talks taking different positions on an issue. You may also draw on other sources for background information or context. Your purpose is to analyze at least two essays/TED Talks to understand their authors' main points of disagreement and to suggest ways to identify points of agreement and build common ground based on shared values, concerns, needs, and interests, as well as to identify points of disagreement and different perspectives. To do this, you'll use the essays posted to the course web site under "Happiness and its Discontents" and the TED Talks from the syllabus.

Criteria you'll be graded on

An informative introduction to the issue and opposing positions

- A paragraph or so laying out the idea of happiness as you, a culture, or someone else understands it. Begin with a quote, a surprising fact, a startling statistic, or a mini story.
- A paragraph or so briefly describing the articles on happiness that you'll be using, focusing on their main ideas and/or theoretical approaches to understanding happiness
- A thesis identifying areas of disagreement and areas of common ground

A probing analysis with properly synthesized sources

- Several paragraphs in which you argue to support your thesis's assertions
- Interesting and insightful discussion of the points of disagreement and potential agreement
- Focus in on a few points rather than too many points
- Explain in detail the points that are hard for readers to grasp
- Consider emphasizing the less obvious points of agreement
- Consider why the writers make a particular kind of argument rather than another kind of argument
- Consider how the writer's profession or biography could explain why a particular idea has so much persuasive power

Anthem Guide to Essay Writing Carole L. Hamilton,2011-06-01 The Anthem Guide to Essay Writing is a comprehensive guide to writing successful essays in any course with step by step advice and plenty of examples One of the greatest assets of this book is its insights into how essays are evaluated so that writers can focus their efforts productively It demonstrates each step of the writing process from close reading and research to generating ideas organizing thoughts structuring a draft essay and revising for clarity and eloquence If you want to improve the quality of your essays you will find clear helpful advice in this easy to use guide Reading Empirical Research Studies John R. Hayes,Richard E. Young,Michele L. Matchett,Maggie McCaffrey,Cynthia Cochran,2020-10-07 For the most part those who teach writing and administer writing programs do not conduct research on writing Perhaps more significantly they do not often read the research done by others because effective reading of articles on empirical research requires special knowledge and abilities By and large those responsible for maintaining and improving writing instruction cannot without further training access work that could help them carry out their responsibilities more effectively This book is designed as a text in graduate programs that offer instruction in rhetoric and composition Its primary educational purposes are to provide models and critical methods designed to improve the reading of scientific discourse to provide models of effective research designs and projects appropriate to those learning to do empirical research in rhetoric Aiming to cultivate new attitudes toward empirical research this volume encourages an appreciation of the rhetorical tradition that informs the production and critical reading of empirical studies The book should also reinforce a slowly growing realization in English studies that empirical methods are not inherently alien to the humanities rather that methods extend the power of humanist researchers trying to solve the problems of their discipline      A Future for American Evangelicalism Harold Heie, 2015-04-15 This book proposes that participation in God's Project of Reconciliation is the Center that can hold evangelical Christians together in the midst of great diversity in belief and ecclesiastical practices The author envisions a vibrant future for the Evangelical movement if professing evangelicals can model that rare combination of deep commitment to their own beliefs openness to listening to the beliefs of others and willingness to engage in respectful conversation with those who disagree with them in place of the combativeness that has characterized too much of Evangelicalism in the recent past The book models this type of conversation on such controversial issues as the exclusivity of Christianity the inerrancy of the bible Evangelicalism and morality Evangelicalism and politics scientific models on humanity cosmic and human origins and the future of evangelical higher education      Today's Economic Issues Nancy S. Lind, Erik T. Rankin, Gardenia Harris, 2016-08-15 What are the real differences between the Democrats and the Republicans on major economic issues that influence the character and vitality of the American economy This volume answers this question in a thorough nonpartisan and evenhanded fashion Both the Democratic and Republican parties proclaim that they have the best interests of the nation and its people at heart Both are also adamant that they have the best proposals and positions on economic policies including taxation spending priorities wages business regulation and other influences on economic growth and household finances This volume carefully examines the two parties respective policies providing a detailed yet readable and understandable look at how the parties agree disagree and find compromise on the broad range of problems and issues facing American society in the 21st century Each entry includes an infographic that offers bulleted at a glance summaries of the two parties positions on each issue today an Issue Overview providing basic definitions and background for understanding the debate on each issue and a main entry that explains prevailing party sentiments the diversity of opinion within each party and the shifts in party position on that issue over time Selected entries also feature informative sidebars that supply additional content such as primary documents that showcase the viewpoints of key political figures and institutions or biographical profiles of individuals who have helped shape their party's policies on the issue in question      Today's Social Issues Timothy W. Kneeland, 2016-07-01 Covering everything from abortion to gun control to immigration this book explains policies and positions of today's Democratic and Republican parties giving readers a complete understanding of modern day American politics and the 2016 presidential race This book cuts through rhetorical platitudes and partisan distortions to provide a balanced and up to date resource for understanding policy debates on social issues in statehouses around the country as well as in Washington DC It provides broad coverage of the parties and the forces that affect each party's positions examining every major social policy and taking into account historical differences between Democrats and Republicans in an evenhanded manner with emphasis on the key ideologies that set the two parties apart during the 2008 2014 midterms Author Timothy Kneeland presents an in depth study of the diversity of political opinion on today's most pressing social issues digging deeper than the typical black or white presentation of these debates in the media Readers will gain a detailed understanding of how the parties agree disagree and find compromise on the broad range of problems and issues facing American society in the 21st century

Power in Conservation Carol Carpenter, 2020-05-11 This book examines theories and ethnographies related to the anthropology of power in conservation Conservation thought and practice is power laden conservation thought is powerfully shaped by the history of ideas of nature and its relation to people and conservation interventions govern and affect peoples and ecologies This book argues that being able to think deeply particularly about power improves conservation policy making and practice Political ecology is by far the most well known and well published approach to thinking about power in conservation This book analyzes the relatively neglected but robust anthropology of conservation literature on politics and power outside political ecology especially literature rooted in Foucault It is intended to make four of Foucault's concepts of power accessible concepts that are most used in the anthropology of conservation the power of discourses discipline and governmentality subject formation and neoliberal governmentality The important ethnographic literature that these concepts have stimulated is also examined Together theory and ethnography underpin our emerging understanding of a new Anthropocene shaped world This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of conservation environmental anthropology and political ecology as well as conservation practitioners and policy makers The Film Experience Timothy Corrigan, Patricia White, 2012-01-03 A comprehensive introduction to film that recognizes students as movie fans and helps them understand the art form's full scope The authors situate their strong coverage of the medium's formal elements within the larger cultural contexts that inform the ways we watch film from economics and exhibition to marketing and the star system Blackwells

Poverty in American Popular Culture Wylie Lenz, 2020-08-17 In 1964 President Lyndon Johnson declared an unconditional war on poverty in the form of sweeping federal programs to assist millions of Americans Two decades later President Reagan drastically cut such programs claiming that welfare encouraged dependency and famously quipping Some years ago the federal government declared war on poverty and poverty won These opposing policy positions and the ideologies informing them have been well studied Here the focus turns to the influence of popular art and entertainment on beliefs about poverty's causes and potential cures These new essays interrogate the representation of poverty in film television music photography painting illustration and other art forms from the late 19th century to the present They map when how and why producers of popular culture represent or ignore poverty and what assumptions their works make and encourage Ideas, Evidence, and Method Graciela De Pierris, 2015-04-30 Graciela De Pierris presents a novel interpretation of the relationship between skepticism and naturalism in Hume's epistemology and a new appraisal of Hume's place within early modern thought Whereas a dominant trend in recent Hume scholarship maintains that there are no skeptical arguments concerning causation and induction in Book I Part III of the Treatise Graciela De Pierris presents a detailed reading of the skeptical argument she finds there and how this argument initiates a train of skeptical reasoning that begins in Part III and culminates in Part IV This reasoning is framed by Hume's version of the modern theory of ideas developed by Descartes and Locke The skeptical implications of this theory however do not arise as in traditional interpretations of Hume's skepticism from the veil of perception They arise from Hume's elaboration of a presentational phenomenological model of ultimate evidence according to which there is always a justificatory gap between what is or has been immediately presented to the mind and any ideas that go beyond it This happens paradigmatically in the causal inductive inference and as De Pierris argues in demonstrative inference as well Yet in spite of his firm commitment to radical skepticism Hume also accepts the naturalistic standpoint of science and common life and he does so on the novel interpretation presented here because of an equally firm commitment to Newtonian science in general and the Newtonian inductive method in particular Hume defends the Newtonian method against the mechanical philosophy while simultaneously rejecting all attempts including those of the Newtonians to find a place for the supernatural within our understanding of nature
