

Sievers 5310 C Series TOC Analyzers

Overview

The Sievers® 5310 C Series Total Organic Carbon (TOC) Analyzers were designed specifically for the municipal drinking water market. They offer superior accuracy and precision across a dynamic operating range of 4 parts per billion (ppb) to 50 parts per million (ppm) TOC.

The 5310 C TOC Analyzers were engineered for ease of use and cost-effective operation. They offer automated procedures such as calibration, verification, reagent adjustment, and percent removal calculation for easier, faster TOC monitoring. Available in three models—5310 C Laboratory, 5310 C On-line, and 5310 C Portable—these low maintenance Analyzers need no external reagents or gas supplies, and offer one-year calibration stability.

Key Applications

The 5310 C Analyzers monitor raw and finished water TOC for plant optimization, USEPA compliance reporting, and distribution security monitoring applications. They recover the most difficult-to-oxidize organic compounds by combining UV/persulfate oxidation with the proven Sievers Membrane Conductometric Detection Technology, a USEPA-approved methodology under Standard Methods 5310 C and USEPA Method 415.3. The 5310 C specifically calculates Percent TOC Removal in both grab and on-line mode<sup>1</sup> to support Disinfectant and Disinfection Byproducts Rule (D/DBPR) compliance.

The 5310 C Analyzers offer great flexibility. They can be used for continuous on-line measurement, or to analyze water samples with different sample matrices and concentrations from various points in a plant's treatment process with the highest efficiency and accuracy. The highly versatile Portable version can be moved between the lab and the plant to facilitate on-line pilot studies and full-scale testing for process optimization.

Features and Benefits

The 5310 C Analyzers features best-of-class ease of use in setup, operation, and maintenance.

- Easy Operation — The 5310 C Analyzers' large, color touch-screen display makes it easy to set up instrument parameters. No special training is required to operate the Analyzers.
- Low Maintenance Requirements — The 5310 C Analyzers prompt users automatically to perform preventive maintenance—typically only a few hours per year. The modular design simplifies consumables replacement and preventive maintenance.
- 12-Month Calibration Stability — The 5310 C Analyzers offer 12-month calibration stability, unlike some analyzers that require weekly or even daily calibration. By following the on-screen prompts, users can select from various calibration routines.
