Tales from the Castle Jon Vickers-Jones,2008-08-07 tales drawings poetry children's plays memories of world war two Women and Ageing in British Society since 1500 Lynn Botelho,Pat Thane,2014-07-30 Women have always made up the majority of older people this examination of the lives of elderly women in Britain in the period 1500 to the present reveals attitudes towards the ageing process It sheds light on household structures as well as wider issues including the history of the family the process of industrialisation the poor law and welfare provision and questions many common beliefs about elderly women particularly that female old age was a time of poverty and want An important book for students of history and sociology alike Miracle Brew Pete Brown,2017 In lively and witty fashion celebrated British beer writer Pete Brown presents a complete natural history of beer and shares the incredible story behind each of its four ingredients malted barley hops yeast and water Miracle Brew explores the origins of fermentation the lost age of hallucinogenic gruit beers and the evolution of modern hop varieties that now challenge wine grapes in the extent to which they are discussed and revered Book cover Fodor's 2009 England Linda Cabasin,Mark Sullivan,Fodor's Travel Publications, Inc,2009 Surviving Mummy Veena Masud,2012-05 In spite of Mummy The story of my family began six generations ago when my maternal great great grandmother left India in rather confused circumstances to end up as an indentured labourer in the West Indian Island of Trinidad Despite the challenges of being a single mother in a strange land she inspired her daughter Gainder through example and Gainder married an ambitious handsome young man New laws were made as slavery was abolished indentured labourers could now buy land and so Gainder and her husband prospered They bought large land holdings and had ten children to go with it Life in the late 1800s was happy and contented for the family as they melted into a multi religious and multi cultural society Gainder s five daughters married well to pliable husbands and her five boys were happy to live off their father s wealth Three generations later Gainder s granddaughter Little Sparrow married and began what was supposed to be a long and happy life with Victor a young man of means with two obsessions in his life his wife and cricket Three daughters later Little Sparrow died giving birth to a stillborn baby boy an event that had been predicted by a faqir thirty five years before Her daughter Carla my mother classy beautiful yet haughty and disdainful had a disastrous marriage to a wildly passionate man of humble means who loved her but could not leave his possessive mother They separated two weeks before my birth Mummy could not come to terms with her broken marriage and what people would say I became her punching bag and the reason for her lonely and miserable life I also had the terrible misfortune of being the spitting image of my father and no doubt destined to be a chip of the old block This book is a reflection on the first eighteen years of my life It was initially inspired by a deep need to reflect and put issues to rest as I entered middle age Apart from being emotionally therapeutic writing this book was a wonderful experience in self discovery I indulged in the memories that were sometimes happy sometimes thoughtful and reflective and at times so very sad Children are judgmental yet the most forgiving of human beings and while they may naturally love their parents unconditionally children may not always like what they see

Surviving Freedom Janusz Bardach, Kathleen Gleeson, 2003-05-01 In 1941 as a Red Army soldier fighting the Nazis on the Belarussian front Janusz Bardach was arrested court martialed and sentenced to ten years of hard labor Twenty two years old he had committed no crime He was one of millions swept up in the reign of terror that Stalin perpetrated on his own people In the critically acclaimed Man Is Wolf to Man Bardach recounted his horrific experiences in the Kolyma labor camps in northeastern Siberia the deadliest camps in Stalin s gulag system In this sequel Bardach picks up the narrative in March 1946 when he was released He traces his thousand mile journey from the northeastern Siberian gold mines to Moscow in the period after the war when the country was still in turmoil He chronicles his reunion with his brother a high ranking diplomat in the Polish embassy in Moscow his experiences as a medical student in the Stalinist Soviet Union and his trip back to his hometown where he confronts the shattering realization of the toll the war has taken including the deaths of his wife parents and sister In a trenchant exploration of loss post traumatic stress syndrome and existential loneliness Bardach plumbs his ordeal with honesty and compassion affording a literary window into the soul of a Stalinist gulag survivor Surviving Freedom is his moving account of how he rebuilt his life after tremendous hardship and personal loss It is also a unique portrait of postwar Stalinist Moscow as seen through the eyes of a person who is both an insider and outsider Bardach's journey from prisoner back to citizen and from labor camp to freedom is an inspiring tale of the universal human story of suffering and recovery

Professional Papers Great Britain. Ordnance Survey, 1912 The Complete Tradesman Nancy Cox, 2016-12-05 The Complete Tradesman redresses the relative paucity of studies on the history of retailing before 1800 Based upon extensive research into diverse trade sources Cox takes issue with the surprisingly resilient stereotype of the dull and out of date shopkeeper in the early modern period showing that the retailing sector was well adapted to the social and economic needs of the day and quick to exploit new opportunities Chapters cover not only distribution shop design customer relations and networks between tradesmen but also attitudes to retailing official controls and the response to novelty By throwing light on subjects hitherto overlooked and challenging existing whiggish preoccupations with progress towards modern retailing systems this study signals a new approach to the history of retailing The focus is placed on assessing how far tradesmen especially shopkeepers satisfied and stimulated contemporary desires for consumer goods

Perinatal Events and Brain Damage in Surviving Children Fred Kubli,Naren Patel,W. Schmidt,O.

Linderkamp,2012-12-06 Decision making in modern obstetrics and perinatology is controlled by a variety of different factors but there is little doubt that in industrialized countries one of the most powerful single factors is the concern and fear of causing permanent brain damage in the unborn and newborn The dramatic increase in the rates of abdominal deliveries in many parts of the world is certainly rooted to a substantial part in the obstetrician s concern not so much about possible perinatal death but more so about permanent brain damage in surviving children This trend has been accelerated by the increasing number of litigations in connection with brain damage observed in many societies This problem itself has many aspects but it seems evident that litigation justified or unjustified is one modern expression of the human and social tragedy inflicted on individuals and families by the birth of a brain damaged child The medical social and human importance of the problem is in sharp contrast to the relative lack of scientific knowledge available This became very clear when the National Institutes of Health published the excellent review in 1985 on Prenatal and Perinatal Factors Associated with Brain Disorders and its editor J M

Surviving the Arctic Convoys John R. McKay,2021-07-21 Leading Seaman Charlie Erswell saw much more than his fair share of action during the Second World War He was present at the 1942 landing in North Africa Operation TORCH D Day and the liberation of Norway But his main area of operations was that of the Arctic Convoys escorting merchant ships taking essential war supplies to the Russian ports of Murmansk and Archangel In addition to contending with relentless U boat and Luftwaffe attacks crews endured the extreme sea conditions and appalling weather This involved clearing ice and snow in temperatures as low as minus thirty degrees Celsius No wonder Winston Churchill described it as the worst journey in the world Fortunately Charlie who served on two destroyers HMS Milne and Savage kept a record of his experiences and is alive today to describe them His story published to coincide with the 80th Anniversary of the first convoy is more than one man s account It is an inspiring tribute to his colleagues many of whom were killed in action No one reading Surviving The Arctic Convoys could fail to be moved by the bravery and endurance of these outstanding men
