plays a much larger role in sign Sign languages are more frequently born anew as small groups of deaf people come together in villages or schools Sign languages often borrow from the written form of the surrounding spoken language producing fingerspelling alphabets character signs and related signs This book examines the effects of these and other differences using observation experimentation and theory The languages examined include Asian Middle Eastern European and American sign languages and language situations include home signers and small village signers children gesturers adult signers and non native signers
