The development Situation in Malawi Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: International Development Committee, 2012-07-24. The Government should reinstate its programme of General Budget Support for Malawi according to MPs on the International Development Committee. The Department for International Development (DFID) suspended General Budget Support to Malawi; the provision of funds directly to the Malawian exchequer in July 2011, preferring to provide its aid by other means. This decision was taken in response to the policies of the then President of Malawi, Bingu wa Mutharika. His policies had created an economic and political crisis, whilst his authoritarian tendencies were becoming ever more apparent. The UK's High Commissioner had been expelled from Malawi for criticising Mutharika. However, following the death of President Mutharika in April this year, his successor, President Joyce Banda, has begun to reverse many of his policies. The currency has been devalued, whilst the new Government has indicated its intention to repeal many of its predecessor's authoritarian measures. Subject to the continued progress of reforms, general budget support is likely to be the most efficient way of providing aid to Malawi.

DFID's Programme in Zambia Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: International Development Committee, 2012-09-06.

Although Zambia has enjoyed significant economic growth in the last decade, it remains one of the least developed countries in the world, ranking 164 out of 187 countries in the 2011 UN Human Development Index. The country is seriously off track on the poverty Millennium Development Goal (MDG1), and inequality remains very high. Women suffer disproportionately; violence against women is widespread, and maternal mortality rates (MDG5) are high. The foremost challenge for the Zambian economy is to spread wealth to rural areas, and the Committee welcomes DFID's proposed rural markets development programme, which seeks to increase the productivity of poor smallholder farmers by strengthening markets for inputs and crops. Lack of access to reproductive health services is one of the key reasons maternal mortality is high. The report recommends that DFID encourage the Zambian Government to allow clinicians other than doctors, including nurses and midwives, to be trained to provide Long Acting and Permanent Method contraception. DFID should focus its efforts on rural areas and young people. Secondary, tertiary, and vocational education should also be prioritised in DFID's education expenditure. There is a particular need for business education with a lack of competent middle management across the Zambian economy in the public and private sector The report also highlights major inefficiencies in Zambia s public expenditure which if removed could free up revenues to improve public services The biggest of these is the maize subsidy International Business Shad Morris,James Oldroyd,2023-03-21 An incisive and comprehensive exploration of international business in the modern world In the newly updated third edition of International Business an accomplished team of educators and business practitioners delivers a revitalized approach to the discipline that brings international business to life This latest edition of the book includes one of a kind chapters on sustainability poverty and innovation as well as new Mini Simulation activities explorations of the Covid 19 pandemic and its effects on commerce the business implications of social and civic justice race and inequality debates new whiteboard animations a video and podcast series and new case studies on equity diversity and inclusion at Microsoft International Business efficiently prepares students for the global economy and transforms the authors impressive international experience at multi national corporations into an indispensable pedagogical resource Industry and Environment ,2004
