Sex, Shame, and Violence Kathleen Cash,2016-07-19 For more than three decades Kathleen Cash has lived and worked with impoverished people learning about their lives Listening to them talk about their feelings of shame Cash heard how people suffered from being unable to change what was happening to them HIV infection sexual and domestic violence violence toward children and environmental degradation She saw that many interventions lacked emotional and cultural integrity and thus did little to alleviate these hardships So Cash went outside the conventional approaches to health promotion and social justice and devised a community narrative practice a strategy for engaging people through storytelling From numerous ethnographic interviews she pieced together cultural stories in a way that resonated with community people and revealed the paradoxes in their suffering Cash recruited local artists to illustrate the stories in a form resembling a graphic novel and distributed these booklets for community discussion This book includes excerpts from these illustrated stories In Thailand Bangladesh Haiti Uganda and the United States people learned to talk about forbidden subjects and say what they could never say before They stood up to each other reconciled and made health seeking decisions By helping others they repaired themselves In cathartic conversations they acknowledged shame which led to acts of courage and generosity Employment Security Review United States.
