From Testing to Assessment Clifford Hill,Kate Parry,2014-09-19 From Testing to Assessment English as an International Language provides a critical review of conventional and alternative approaches to the assessment of English literacy skills in various parts of the world It presents empirical studies conducted in three major settings in countries such as Japan and Brazil where English functions as the language of international commerce in multilingual countries such as Nigeria and Zimbabwe where English is the national language of education and government and in such countries as Canada the United Kingdom and the United States where English is the dominant language The book opens with a discussion of language assessment in relation to debates about the nature of literacy it concludes with a discussion of policy implications which is grounded in literacy theory as well as in practical constraints such as available human and material resources Resources in Education, 1991

A Preliminary Survey of Environmental Awareness in Some Secondary School Pupils in Zimbabwe J. M. Manjengwa, 1997 (Re)Constructing Memory: Textbooks, Identity, Nation, and State James H. Williams, Wendy D. Bokhorst-Heng, 2016-07-08

This book engages readers in thirteen conversations presented by authors from around the world regarding the role that textbooks play in helping readers imagine membership in the nation Authors voices come from a variety of contexts some historical some contemporary some providing analyses over time But they all consider the changing portrayal of diversity belonging and exclusion in multiethnic and diverse societies where silenced invisible marginalized members have struggled to make their voices heard and to have their identities incorporated into the national narrative The authors discuss portrayals of past exclusions around religion ethnicity sexual orientation as they look at the shifting boundaries of insider and outsider This book is thus about who we are not only demographically but also in terms of the past especially how and whether we teach discredited pasts through textbooks The concluding chapters provides ways forward in thinking about what can be done to promote curricula that are more inclusive critical and positively bonding in increasingly larger and more inclusive contexts Super TET Primary Level

Teacher in Zimbabwe, 2014      International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz, Vitor Geraldi Haase, Pekka Räsänen, 2019-01-30

This comprehensive volume provides teachers researchers and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational behavioural and neurosciences integrating cognitive developmental and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades but the most part of this research has been conducted in non applied settings and there s still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings Now it s time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues And it does so from an international perspective dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society      Policy, Evaluation, and Leadership Anne Welle-Strand, 1996
