Queering Professionalism: Pitfalls and Possibilities Adam Davies and Cameron Greensmith, Teaching for Peace and Social Justice in Myanmar Mary Shepard Wong, 2022-06-02 Bringing together scholars and educators based in Myanmar the USA the UK Denmark and Thailand this book presents new perspectives and research on the struggle for social justice and peace in Myanmar at this critical juncture It shows how actors from diverse backgrounds and regions of Myanmar are drawing from their identities evoking their agency and using critical pedagogy to advance social justice and peace The chapters provide the compelling life stories of the authors specific examples of what they are doing and insights of how their work might be applied to other contexts The topics discussed include addressing structural violence peace curriculum development identity based conflict teaching the history of the country promoting inclusion civic education critical pedagogy teacher agency and agendas of research funding for peacebuilding The foreword and afterword written by well known scholars of Myanmar address the relevance and importance of the book vis a vis the current social and political crisis following the February 2021 military coup Active Learning: Theoretical Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy, Elizabeth S. Charles, James D. Slotta, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation

Nuances of Blackness in the Canadian Academy Awad Ibrahim,Tamari Kitossa,Malinda S. Smith,Handel Kashope Wright,2022-02-02 The essays in Nuances of Blackness in the Canadian Academy make visible the submerged stories of Black life in academia They offer fresh historical social and cultural insights into what it means to teach learn research and work while Black In daring to shift from margin to centre the book s contributors confront two overlapping themes First they resist a singular construction of Blackness that masks the nuances and multiplicity of what it means to be and experience the academy as Black people Second they challenge the stubborn durability of anti Black tropes the dehumanization of Blackness persistent deficit ideologies and the tyranny of low expectations that permeate the dominant idea of Blackness in the white colonial imagination Operating at the intersections of discourse and experience contributors reflect on how Blackness shapes academic pathways ignites complicated and often difficult conversations and reimagines Black pasts presents and futures This unique collection contributes to the articulation of more nuanced understandings of the ways in which Blackness is made unmade and remade in the academy and the implications for interrelated dynamics across and within post secondary education Black communities in Canada and global Black diasporas Successful Campus Outreach for Academic Libraries Peggy Keeran,Carrie Forbes,2018-09-22 In Successful Campus Outreach for Academic Libraries Building Community Through Collaboration Peggy Keeran and Carrie Forbes bring together a variety of ways academic libraries are engaging with their communities through outreach with creativity and the spirit of collaboration as major themes throughout As a compendium of best practices it serves as a resource for academic librarians to discover new programming ideas to learn principles of effective marketing and to help them think strategically and programmatically about outreach activities of all types Topics are presented in four sections Strategic Vision and PlanningDeveloping and Implementing Successful ProgramsCommunity Outreach The Academic Library in the CommunityBroadening Library Outreach Audiences Practitioners designing outreach programs and activities will benefit from learning about a diverse set of outreach practices from libraries Occupational Outlook Handbook ,2006 Describes 250 occupations which cover approximately 107 million jobs Preparing for College and University Teaching Joanna Gilmore,Molly Hatcher,2023-07-03 This book is a guide for designing professional development programs for graduate students The teaching competencies framework presented here can serve as the intended curriculum for such programs The book will also be an excellent resource for evaluating programs and will be an excellent resource for academics who study graduate students This book presents the work of the Graduate Teaching Competencies Consortium to identify organize and clarify the competencies that graduate students need to teach effectively when they join the professoriate To achieve this goal the Consortium developed a framework of 10 teaching competencies organized around three overarching questions What do graduate students need to achieve by the end of their graduate education to be successful teacher scholars What do graduate students need to understand about higher education to have successful careers as educators What do graduate students need to do to be successful teachers during their graduate student careers Although much work has been done to identify the competencies of effective teachers in higher education only a small portion of this work has been conducted with graduate student instructors This is an important area of research given that graduate students are critical in the higher education academic pipeline Nationally graduate students teach between 25% and 50% of courses offered at the undergraduate level Graduate student teaching is also critical because during early teaching experiences teachers establish a teaching style and set of teaching skills which will endure as graduate students enter the professoriate It is important to develop a teaching competency framework that is specific to graduate student instructors as they often have unique needs and roles as teachers For example graduate student instructors are in the unique position of becoming experts in their field concurrent with learning to teach Moreover as many professional development programs for graduate student instructors evolve based upon factors such as available resources and perceived needs of graduate students this framework will be a useful aid for thoughtfully designing strategic evidence based comprehensive professional development opportunities and programs OECD Reviews of

Julie, 2016-10-19 The effective use of school resources is a policy priority across OECD countries The OECD Reviews of School Resources explore how resources can be governed distributed utilised and managed to improve the quality equity and efficiency of school education Surviving Emotional Work for Teachers Jean Hopman, 2020-10-29

Surviving Emotional Work for Teachers is a guide to improving teachers wellbeing and practice through support of their emotional workload The book argues that teachers should be given a formal opportunity to debrief on challenging events allowing them to reflect on and reframe these experiences in a way that informs future practice to prevent the emotional fatigue that can lead teachers to leave the field altogether Each chapter opens with a teacher's story acknowledging the emotional layers present in the scenario and what learnings can be drawn from it Each of these stories features tension between what is expected of teachers and how they are limited to act which is further fuelled by underlying assumptions This is valuable reading for teachers at all stages of their career whether preparing for the complex work ahead or making sense of past and current experiences This book offers a reflexive process that teachers and schools can implement to facilitate the useful exploration of their emotion Such a process is vital for the overall wellbeing of any school Canadian Almanac & Directory, 2015

Tannys Williams, 2014-10 The Canadian Almanac Directory is the most complete source of Canadian information available cultural professional and financial institutions legislative governmental judicial and educational organizations Canada's authoritative sourcebook for all Teachers and Teaching Post-COVID Katy Marsh-Davies, Cathy Burnett, 2023-11-23

Featuring a broad swathe of academic research and perspectives from international contributors this book will capture and share important lessons from the pandemic experience for teaching practice and teacher learning more broadly Looking at core teaching values such as the facilitation of learning the promotion of fairness and equality and community building the book centres the records of teachers experiences from diverse educational phases and locations that illuminate how the complexity of teaching work is entangled in the emotional relational and embodied nature of teachers everyday lives Through rich qualitative data and first hand experience the book informs the decisions of teachers and those who train support and manage them promoting sustainable positive transformation within education for the benefit of educators and learners alike This book will be of use to scholars practitioners and researchers involved with teachers and teacher education the sociology of education and teaching and learning more broadly Policy makers working in school leadership management and administration may also benefit from the volume
