Maxwell, Ann E. Person, 2017-01-19 Community colleges face pressure to do more with less that have prompted many college leaders to consider fundamental changes to the ways they have typically done business Because piecemeal solutions have not often been effective or efficient colleges are moving far beyond discreet programs or interventions and are attempting to implement comprehensive reform efforts This volume conceptualizes comprehensive reform as being marked by a focus on student success a theory of change that ties programmatic components together in an intentional and cohesive package implemented at multiple levels throughout the college and touching the majority of students and a culture of evidence that uses data to continuously assess programs and processes against student success Presenting original analyses that describe the rationale for comprehensive reform this volume examines the challenges involved in implementing evaluating and sustaining those efforts This is the 176th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Essential to the professional libraries of presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today s open door institutions New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission Adapting to Online and Blended Learning in Higher Education David Kember, Robert A. Ellis, Si Fan, Allison Trimble, 2023-05-19 Higher education has undergone a massive transformation in teaching and learning in a very short period of time since the onset of Covid 19 Students teachers and universities have had to adopt online and blended learning often with little or no experience or models of good practice to draw upon It is clear that blended and online learning are here to stay This book draws on research from universities that have adopted online and blended learning to facilitate the expansion and diversification of their intake which resulted in considerable experience and expertise in online and blended teaching The book describes a model tested with qualitative and quantitative data which shows how teachers can support the retention and success of online and blended learners with four high quality pedagogical elements bite sized videos of interest and relevance learning materials that are well organised and provide a clear learning roadmap discussion forums which are set up and moderated so as to result in lively student student and student teacher interaction and online teachers being approachable and responsive to communication with individual students through email phone and online communication platforms This model is explained and profusely illustrated with examples from the teaching of award winning teachers This book introduces the concept of a spectrum from traditional to contemporary models of admission and course delivery in higher education It explains how universities which have adopted a contemporary model with high levels of blended and online learning have been able to expand their intake and markedly diversify the student body It discusses how to support the retention and success of online and blended learners Student support services are examined from the perspectives of service providers and online and blended learners and the case is made for support services being aligned with student needs The book has a discussion of university management systems which utilise feedback at all levels to improve alignment between support service provision and student needs

Diversifying the Teaching Force in Transnational Contexts Clea Schmidt, Jens Schneider, 2016-10-26 Diversifying the teaching force has become a priority in many migrant receiving jurisdictions worldwide with the growing mismatch between the ethnic backgrounds cultures languages and religions of teachers and those of students and families Arguments for diversification tend to be couched in terms of disproportionate representation and students from minority backgrounds needing positive role models yet research identifies other compelling reasons for diversification including the fact that teachers of migrant backgrounds often possess outstanding qualifications when multilingualism and internationally obtained education and experience are taken into account and the fact that all students including majority background students benefit from a diversity of role models in schools Nevertheless the process of diversification is fraught with complexity Depending on the context systemic discrimination an oversupply of teachers in the profession generally and outdated hiring policies and practices can all impede efforts to diversify the teaching force This volume comprises original research from Canada the U S Germany Ireland Scotland and England that problematizes issues of diversifying the teaching force and identifies promising practices A foreword written by Charlene Bearhead of the National Centre for Truth and Reconciliation questions the very purpose of education in and for diverse societies An introduction written by the editors defines key concepts and establishes a rationale for diversifying the teaching force in migrant receiving contexts Following this key international scholars offer empirical perspectives using a range of methodologies and theories rooted in critical social science paradigms The volume informs future research programming and policy development in this area
