Hofmeyr, 2012 Black Tax Niq Mhlongo, 2019-09-12 The real significance of this book lies in the fact that it tells us more about the everyday life of black South Africans It delves into the essence of black family life and the secret anguish of family members who often battle to cope Niq Mhlongo A secret torment for some a proud responsibility for others black tax is a daily reality for thousands of black South Africans In this thought provoking and moving anthology a provocative range of voices share their deeply personal stories With the majority of black South Africans still living in poverty today many black middle class households are connected to working class or jobless homes Some believe supporting family members is an undeniable part of African culture and question whether it should even be labelled as a kind of tax Others point to the financial pressure it places on black students and professionals who as a consequence struggle to build their own wealth Many feel they are taking over what is essentially a government responsibility The contributions also investigate the historical roots of black tax the concept of the black family and the black middle class In giving voice to so many different perspectives Black Tax hopes to start a dialogue on this widespread social phenomenon Education and Leadership

,2008-01-01 This truly international book brings together authors from different regions of the world including North America South Africa Europe Iran and Russia all of whom are concerned with aspects of the challenges involved in the expansion of higher education both in student numbers and areas of study Some are concerned about the loss of guiding principles which steered university education for centuries The traditional purposes of higher education have come under such pressure that we have achieved conflicting models of the university Claes and ambiguity in regard to teaching and research Simons et al For others the problems are at a different stage Contributions from South Africa look at three challenges Can we provide enough places in higher education How do we deal with institutional mergers How do we make staff development effective in a situation in which English is the first language of less than five percent of the staff Young scholars in Russian regions face formidable hurdles in achieving academic careers while the best law graduates in Canada are faced with the ethical dilemma of personal career advancement or social justice Topsakal The problem of integrating nursing into a traditional Irish university is reviewed by Grant while the role of a university in regional development is addressed from a Greek perspective by Papaelias et al The comparative international approach features in research into teacher job satisfaction in India and Iran while McMahon reviews the impact of the Bologna Process

Transforming Transformation in Research and Teaching at South African Universities Rob Pattman,Ronelle Carolissen,2018-12-21 What is transformation in contemporary South African higher education How can it be facilitated through research and pedagogic practices These questions are addressed in this edited collection by established academics and emerging research students from nine South African universities The chapters give us access to students worlds how they construct experience and navigate their complex spheres on and off campus By engaging with students as knowledge producers we transform popular ways of thinking about race gender class sexuality disability and age as singular and natural markers of difference and diversity Rather than taking diversity as fixed and rooted in nature we explore how diversity is imagined and lived in particular contexts on and off campus

Discrimination in an Unequal World Miguel Angel Centeno,Katherine S. Newman,2010-09-01 Discrimination in an Unequal World explores the relationship between discrimination and inequality by comparing and examining what effect globalization has had on discrimination Investigating a broad variety of social relations and practices with an equally broad array of methods it establishes a base with which to effectively compare the varying forms of discrimination of different societies Financing Higher Education Worldwide D. Bruce Johnstone, Pamela N. Marcucci, 2010-06-07 No issue in higher education is as salient or as controversial as finance As demand for higher education around the world grows so do the costs associated with it especially as governments shoulder less of the burden Tuition fees rise and student loan debt grows Who pays for these surging costs Who should pay D Bruce Johnstone and Pamela N Marcucci examine the universal phenomenon of cost sharing in higher education where financial responsibility shifts from governments and taxpayers to students and families They find that growing costs for education far outpace public revenue streams that once supported it Even with financial aid and scholarships defraying some of these costs students are responsible for a greater share of the cost of higher education Featuring comprehensive economic and policy data the authors international comparative approach shows how economically diverse countries all face similar cost sharing challenges So who should pay for higher education While cost sharing is both politically and ideologically debated Johnstone and Marcucci contend that for almost all countries it is imperative for the financial health of colleges and universities bringing better efficiency equity and responsiveness Financing Higher Education Worldwide combines sophisticated economic explanations with sensitive political and cultural analyses of the financial pressures facing higher education throughout the world Students' participation in university governance in South Africa Vuyo Mthethwa, 2023-03-01 The purpose of this book is to examine the academic experiences of students who participated in university governance at South African universities Scrutiny is placed on the alignment of student representative council constitutions and university statutes with the actual experiences students had in discharging their roles in governance and in the way this impacted their academic progress Through a multi site case study design semi structured interviews were conducted with members of the student representative council who participated in university governance and supported by document analysis and observations to generate the data The study adopted Tinto's Integration Theory and Astin's Theory of Involvement as the two frameworks are based on the relationship between students extra curricular activity and their academic experiences The study invokes a greater awareness of students as major stakeholder in governance and informs policies and practices that may better serve students academic experiences The study will contribute to the understanding of cooperative governance principles while drawing from the perspective of the students on their understanding limitations and challenges in discharging their roles in university governance Going to University Case, Jennifer, Marshall, Delia, 2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities

Going to University. The Influence of Higher Education on the Lives of Young South Africans Jennifer Case, Delia Marshall, 2018-02-09

Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities

Higher Education , 2023-11-02 COVID wrought havoc on the world's economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning Most were not Whether prepared or not educators rose to the challenge The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment In fact some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model As with all transitions some things were lost while others were gained This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century The book is organized into four sections on Perils and Promises The State of Online Education Goals and Challenges of Online Learning and Innovations in the Age of COVID It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return While many questions arise the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic The Next Twenty-five Years David Lee Featherman, Marvin Krislov, Martin Hall, 2009-12-18 A must read for anyone who cares about the future of higher education in diverse democracies Let's Talk About Varsity ,2009 A Framework for Transformation National Commission on Higher Education (South Africa), 1996 The A to Z of Careers in South Africa ,2006 Scholarship Models around the Globe - Embracing Diversity, New Trends and Opportunities Katherine Meltzoff, Elsa Justino, Ines Casquilho-Martins, 2025-05-14

Scholarship Models Around the Globe Embracing Diversity New Trends and Opportunities offers a comprehensive exploration of global higher education funding systems and their impact on students academic journeys and career trajectories With a focus on equity inclusion and the challenges faced by historically marginalized groups this volume provides insights into diverse scholarship models across different regions By examining the interplay between financial support and access to higher education the book highlights both the successes and limitations of various funding initiatives It explores social mobility fosters sustainable development and addresses systemic inequalities while offering policy recommendations for more inclusive and effective programmes Engaging with comparative case studies from Africa Latin America the Middle East and beyond this volume is an essential resource for researchers educators and policymakers seeking to understand the evolving dynamics of higher education funding Rich with diverse perspectives this book highlights emerging trends and innovative practices making it an essential part of the ongoing conversation on educational equity and the future of global scholarship programs Reflections of South African University Leaders: 1981 to 2014 Council on Higher Education, 2016-03-17

Much has been written about the ever growing demands on university leadership worldwide in the face of increasingly complex changes and challenges from within the academy and beyond However as we are reminded by Johan Muller in the Introduction to this book there are particular features of time and place that also throw up unique problems It is precisely time and place that make this set of reflections by university leaders quite remarkable and distinguishes it from the many biographies to be found in the literature on higher education leadership In the main this collection spans two decades the 1990s and 2000s of unprecedented levels of change in South African higher education Leaders in universities as well as those responsible for higher education policy in the government and associated statutory bodies had no neat script to work off nor manuals or prescripts of good leadership or practice Instead there was palpable excitement about collectively imagining and nurturing a new post apartheid higher education system which would contribute to the social and economic development needs of the country the deepening of democracy and which would also be globally relevant Most reflections touch on the coalface of leadership which is the face to face interactional dimension dealing with staff with students with council chairs What comes through clearly is the importance of what are sometimes called people skills In these accounts this is not simply presented as a human relations aptitude for a number of reasons first of which is the special nature of universities and their occupants More than one points out the special challenge of managing the talented people that are academics and their inbuilt distaste for bureaucracy their reluctance to be managed or told what to do The message here is consistently one of needing to be completely open with academics the importance of maintaining the distinction between collegial and executive management avoiding managerialism and the critical importance of winning and holding their trust The inspiration for this collection arose in late 2013 in the Council on Higher Education's CHE Monitoring and Evaluation Directorate the directorate responsible for conducting research on the higher education landscape and monitoring the state of the sector They noted that conditions besetting universities had grown increasingly complex both globally but more especially locally and the question arose how had this altered the challenges to university leadership over the period between the new political dispensation and the second decade of the new millennium More particularly how had leaders with a proven track record of visionary and strong leadership during this period faced these challenges How did they see the main changes that needed dealing with What challenges did these changes pose and how were they successfully overcome What did they think looking back were the main constituents of successful leadership and management What wisdom could be distilled for posterity The Directorate decided to invite a range of vice chancellors and senior academic leaders who had completed their terms of office to contribute to a project that set out to gather such reflections and compile them into a publication
