California State University, Long Beach
American Indian Student Council
37th Annual CSULB Pow Wow Committee

February 27, 2007

Dear Donation Manager,

We, the American Indian Student Council, a student organization at California State University, Long Beach (CSULB), humbly request the donation of any of the following items:

Fruit and vegetables (for the singers and dancers)

Snack items such as crackers (for the singers and dancers)

Ricola or cough drops (for the singers)

Water and coffee (for singers and dancers)

The 37th Annual CSULB Pow Wow, held on March 10 and 11, is one of the University's largest and longest running student organized events. It is a Native American Indian social gathering with singing, dancing, food and arts and craft vendors. The Pow Wow draws over 6000 people over the two-day event. Your generously donated items will feed and comfort over 300 dancers and 100 singers.

As we only make up 1% of the entire CSULB student population, we feel it is crucial that we educate the campus and surrounding community about Native American Indians.

We thank you for your consideration and welcome you to experience the sights, sounds and tastes of Native America.

Highly attuned to foundations' limitations in this time, Malczewski focuses on the ways that the state as an actor enabled or inhibited different foundation initiatives. She zeroes in on Mississippi and North Carolina, which had different objectives and thus had distinct relationships with northern foundations. These state responses illuminate the interrelationships among institutions with varying capacities to set agendas or to effect or resist change.
