Teaching Vacancies In Madang:

A Matter of Conscience General Jerry Singirok, 2022-02-24 Twenty years on from the abrupt ending of his military career Jerry Singirok has had much time to ruminate on the past Another strength of his manuscript is in my view the extent to which he does stand back and reflect often quite critically about his own decisions as well as more broadly about politics leadership corruption faith family and many other facets of public and personal life in PNG While coverage of the Sandline Affair and his military deployments to Bougainville may be action action packed it is also a thoughtful work While still largely remembered for his act of defiance and rebellion Singirok's actions also heralded the beginning of the Bougainville Peace Process The book will be of considerable interest to many readers and not just for those with a Pacific focus

Biomedicine in an Unstable Place Alice Street, 2014-10-24 Biomedicine in an Unstable Place is the story of people's struggle to make biomedicine work in a public hospital in Papua New Guinea It is a story encompassing the history of hospital infrastructures as sites of colonial and postcolonial governance the simultaneous production of Papua New Guinea as a site of global medical research and public health and people's encounters with urban institutions and biomedical technologies In Papua New Guinea a century of state building has weakened already inadequate colonial infrastructures and people experience the hospital as a space of institutional medical and ontological instability In the hospital's clinics biomedical practitioners struggle amid severe resource shortages to make the diseased body visible and knowable to the clinical gaze That struggle is entangled with attempts by doctors nurses and patients to make themselves visible to external others to kin clinical experts global scientists politicians and international development workers as socially recognizable and valuable persons Here hospital infrastructures emerge as relational technologies that are fundamentally fragile but also offer crucial opportunities for making people visible and knowable in new unpredictable and powerful ways Take My Heart . . .

Baby Garry Cooper, Robert Hillier, 2006-05 Garry Cooper is a natural and brilliant pilot with a determination for perfection He expects only perfection from himself and others Conflict arose many times through his career when he did not experience perfection from the bureaucracy to which he was subjected On posting to the US Army 9th Infantry Division in Vietnam in 1968 he approached his assignments in the same devoted and determined manner and soon became named a legend by his

American peers General Julian J Ewell the Commander of the 9th Infantry Division and himself a legend from the Siege of Bastogne during WWII recommended Cooper for the Medal of Honour and the Distinguished Service Cross Both these are the US highest awards and as such required Australian concurrence before being awarded As Australia was not allowing its personnel to receive US Awards during the Vietnam Conflict that concurrence was not forthcoming Although Australian policy regarding foreign awards has since changed the government is still preventing Cooper from receiving these high profile awards The US however for other actions and without reference to the Australian Government has awarded Cooper the Silver Star DFC Bronze Star Purple Heart Air Medal and Army Commendation Medal In contrast our Government awarded Cooper an imperial DFC which Cooper refers to as his I was there award Today Cooper lives in retirement in Queensland He has been made an honorary member of the various US Army units by the men whose lives he saved and attends their reunions in the USA This book is the life story with the emphasis on his experiences in the Vietnam war

World Art Ben Burt, 2020-07-12 What do we mean by art As a category of objects the concept belongs to a Western cultural tradition originally European and now increasingly global but how useful is it for understanding other traditions To understand art as a universal human value we need to look at how the concept was constructed in order to reconstruct it through an understanding of the wider world Western art values have a pervasive influence upon non Western cultures and upon Western attitudes to them This innovative yet accessible new text explores the ways theories of art developed as Western knowledge of the world expanded through exploration and trade conquest colonisation and research into other cultures present and past It considers the issues arising from the historical relationships which brought diverse artistic traditions together under the influence of Western art values looking at how art has been used by colonisers and colonised in the causes of collecting and commerce cultural hegemony and autonomous identities World Art questions conventional Western assumptions of art from an anthropological perspective which allows comparison between cultures It treats art as a property of artefacts rather than a category of objects reclaiming the idea of world art from the art world This book is essential reading for all students on anthropology of art courses as well as students of museum studies and art history based on a wide range of case studies and supported by learning features such as annotated further reading and chapter opening summaries
