Shielded Metal Arc Welding Principles

Shielded metal arc welding (SMAW) is a welding process in which the base metals are heated to fusion or melting temperature by an electric arc. The arc is created between a covered metal electrode and the base metal. A shielding gas protects the base metals, arc, electrode, and weld from the atmosphere during welding. The shielding gas is created as the flux covering on the electrode melts. When the flux solidifies, it forms a protective slag over the weld bead. The melting electrode wire furnishes filler metal to the weld. See Figure 5-1.
