Mathematics and Computers in Archaeology J. E. Doran, F. R. Hodson, 1975 This book is for students and practitioners of archaeology It offers an introductory survey of all the applications of mathematical and statistical techniques to their work These applications are increasingly concerned with computerized data classification and quantification and their effect is to reduce the level of uncertainty in the interpretation of the evidence that time and chance have left Any archaeologist wanting to find out what these new methods have to offer has hitherto been forced to search for information in the specialist handbooks conference proceedings and review articles of his own and very often of other disciplines This book brings the information conveniently together so far as it pertains to archaeology and permits an assessment of its relevance and quality Those who have been daunted by the specialist knowledge apparently demanded will now be able to acquire a thorough grasp of principles and practices Only an elementary knowledge of mathematics is presumed throughout Part 1 provides a brief introduction to basic concepts in archaeology and mathematics Part 2 relates the standard archaeological techniques and procedures to mathematics it concentrates on numerical approaches best suited to archaeological practices Part 3 examines various automatic seriation techniques and discusses further work that is coming to play an essential part in the development of archaeology Medical and Health Care Books and Serials in Print ,1987 Books in Print ,1994

Biopsychology John P. J. Pinel, 2009 Biopsychology clearly presents the fundamentals of the study of the biology of behavior and makes the topics personally and socially relevant to the student The defining feature of Biopsychology is its unique combination of biopsychological science and personal reader oriented discourse It is a textbook that is untextbooklike Rather than introducing biopsychology in the usual textbook fashion it interweaves the fundamentals of the field with clinical case studies social issues personal implications and humorous anecdotes It tries to be a friendly mentor that speaks directly to the reader enthusiastically relating recent advances in biopsychological science Who's Who in the West Marquis Who's Who, 2006-06
