British Science Fiction Film and Television Tobias Hochscherf, James Leggott, Donald E. Palumbo, 2014-01-10 Written by international experts from a range of disciplines these essays examine the uniquely British contribution to science fiction film and television Viewing British SF as a cultural phenomenon that challenges straightforward definitions of genre nationhood authorship and media the editors provide a conceptual introduction placing the essays within their critical context Essay topics include Hammer science fiction films the various incarnations of Doctor Who Stanley Kubrick's A Clockwork Orange and such 21st century productions as 28 Days Later and Torchwood Contact with Extraterrestrial Intelligence and Human Law Michael Bohlander, 2023-08-07

It is statistically unlikely that humans are the only intelligent species in the universe Nothing about the others will be known until contact is made beyond a radio signal from space that merely tells us they existed when it was sent That contact may occur tomorrow in a hundred years or never If it does it will be a high risk scenario for humanity It may be peaceful or hostile Relying on alien altruism and benign intentions is wishful thinking We need to begin identifying as a planetary species and develop a global consensus on how to respond in either scenario

Cold War Stories Andrew Hammond, 2017-08-28 This book is the first comprehensive study of mainstream British dystopian fiction and the Cold War Drawing on over 200 novels and collections of short stories the monograph explores the ways in which dystopian texts charted the lived experiences of the period offering an extended analysis of authors concerns about the geopolitical present and anxieties about the national future Amongst the topics addressed are the processes of Cold War autocracy militarism propaganda intelligence nuclear technologies the decline of Britain's standing in global politics and the reduced status of intellectual culture in Cold War Britain Although the focus is on dystopianism in the work of mainstream authors including George Orwell Doris Lessing J G Ballard Angela Carter and Anthony Burgess a number of science fiction novels are also discussed making the book relevant to a wide range of researchers and students of twentieth century British literature
