❶ INTRODUCTION TO KART

KART was formed as a governing body to promote the sport of go kart racing. The following rules and regulations are for the purpose of providing an environment of fair competition among the various classes; to provide stability and consistency to the rules; and to try and reduce the hazards associated with motorsports racing.

All members, drivers, pit crew, and members in general are required to be fully versed with these rules and regulations.

By becoming a member of KART you are agreeing to abide by KART's rules and regulations.

It is the responsibility of every driver, owner, or crew member to prepare and operate their racing kart in a safe manner.

It is the responsibility of the track owner or operator to provide a track as safe as reasonably possible for the competition events to be run.

ROAD RACING KART

A racing kart that is driven in a lay-down (on your back) or semi-lay-down position. Generally raced on tracks of 1 to 4 miles in length.

SPRINT RACING KART

A racing kart that is driven in a sit-up position. Generally raced on irregular tracks with both left and right turns and lengths of 1/4 to 1 mile.

SPEEDWAY RACING KART

A sprint-type kart. Generally raced on dirt oval tracks of 1/5 mile or less. Many racers use a standard sprint chassis, but there are numerous manufacturers of special speedway chassis.

❷ SPIRIT AND INTENT BY MIKE BALDUS

SPIRIT: Real meaning; true intention (to follow the spirit if not the letter of the law).

INTENT: An act or instance of intending; law; one's mental attitude of doing an act.

The sport of go kart racing cut it's teeth on these two words. SPIRIT and INTENT. Through the years, these words seem to have slid from the front of our rule books to the rear of some books, and have completely disappeared in others.

This is, and I hope always will be, a fun, family-involved motorsport. We have a format that allows a future Indy-driver a place to start. We have a format that allows the average Michael or Michelle to learn good driving skills, mechanical skills, sportsmanship, and experience a great hobby.

Even though some karters have been able to convert their favorite sport into a means of making a living and/or in some cases, becoming a professional, it does not alter the fact that karting is not a professional sport. It is an amateur sport for the enjoyment of participant and non-participants.

We must not let a micrometer have the final decision in each and every case.

We as competitors must make every effort to see that the parts we use and the way we use them is in accordance with the rule book.

Race officials and tech inspectors must use the rule book to enforce fair and equal competition. When it is apparent that a competitor is trying to abuse the rules for an unfair advantage, he/she should be thrown out. But when a part is questionable, it should be looked at through the eyes of fairness, and spirit and intent should rule. I know this is a tremendous burden on race officials and tech inspectors, but I also know that the best of them govern themselves with fairness in mind.

I am going to give you some examples:

EXAMPLE # 1: You have a wrist pin that shows no sign of being altered or modified in any way. When measuring it, it is found that all measurements are fine with one exception. One end of the inside hole is one or two thousandths too large for approximately 1/8 inch of depth. You look at the area and can find no evidence that this part was tampered with. Tough call? I don't think so; it would seem obvious to me that the spirit and intent of both the competitor and manufacturer was to market and use a legal part.

EXAMPLE # 2: You have a part that shows machining in an area where the manufacturer does no machine work. All comparable models show an as-cast appearance. The book has no dimension in this area, but says all parts must be stock appearing. Tough call? I don't think so. Someone, and it may not be the competitor, but someone, has obviously tried to gain an unfair advantage. Again, spirit and intent should be the guiding light. If the competitor took this part back to the person that worked on it and said "I want my money back and I don't want any more parts like this, or I won't be back," the problem will go away.

Remember, it is your right to have a KART official tech inspector make the final call on any engine tech item. If you feel you have not been treated fairly at a KART sanctioned event, ask that the part or parts be sent to an official KART tech inspector.

I know I am going to take some flack about this, but I also know there are many that feel the same as I do.

If we all attached these words to any item of question, there would be no questions. SPIRIT AND INTENT.
