Zimsec History Paper1 Nov 2014 A Level Pg1:

New Millennium Woes and Livelihood Struggles in Africa Peter Thomas, Ngonidzashe Marongwe, 2021-05-19 One of the oldest survival pursuits undertaken by the weak and the downtrodden people across the world has been begging. Going back to the ancient Christian biblical times up to the present epoch as well as across varying spatial settings in situations of trouble and tribulations, parts of various communities have resorted to beggary to either overcome immediate adversities or longer term calamities. Drawing on insights from two polar theoretical lenses of Social Constructionism and Social Deconstructionism and guided by a pithy study of the begging across the African continent especially by Zimbabweans, this book troubles the various contours related to the subject of begging. Inter alia, the book considers the concept of begging, the causes of the prevalence of begging across the world and particularly among Zimbabweans, the challenges and benefits associated with the pursuit of alms, the impact of begging in foreign lands as well as some of the strategies that beggars employ to maximize their collections and/or profits. What can be discerned from the book is that for many, begging is one of the last resort undertakings with low pickings. However, from a utilitarian perspective, begging has helped to sustain the impoverished livelihoods of Zimbabweans both inside and outside the borders of the country since the advent of a debilitating crisis experienced from the turn of the new millennium. On the whole, this book seeks to provoke further researches on an important socio-economic area that affects many African communities but has so far been scantily researched. The book is handy for students and practitioners in economic history, African studies, economics, risk and disaster management, social anthropology, political science and development studies.

Reimagining God and Resacralisation Alexa Blonner, 2019-05-14 This book shows that widespread resacralisation has been taking place, which is producing new ways of perceiving God and the divine. The last century has seen unmistakable changes in religious practices and the concept of spirituality right across the world. There was a broad expectation for much of the twentieth century that religious worldviews would eventually succumb to the challenge of secularist materialism, but this process of secularisation has yet to occur as predicted. The book begins by contrasting theories of secularisation and resacralisation. Throughout the book, conceptual threads or new religious themes related to this resacralisation are discussed in terms of three main categories: reimagining God's nature, substance and location; reimagining human value and purpose; and reimagining modes of redemption. Finally, the book considers how these threads are moving in various different directions and what the religious future might hold. This is a bold examination of contemporary spirituality that will appeal to academics and scholars of religious studies, new religious movements and the sociology of religion.

International Law and Transitional Governance Emmanuel H. D. De Groof, Micha Wiebusch, 2020-04-28 This volume examines the role of international law in shaping and regulating transitional contexts, including the institutions, policies and procedures that have been developed to steer constitutional regime changes in countries affected by catalytic events. The book offers a new perspective on the phenomenon of conflict-related transitions.

whereby societies are re constitutionalized through a set of interim governance arrangements subject to variable degrees of internationalization Specifically this volume interrogates the relevance contribution and perils of international law for this increasingly widespread phenomenon of inserting an auxiliary phase between two ages of constitutional government It develops a nuanced understanding of the various international legal discourses surrounding conflict and political crisis related transitional governance by studying the contextual factors that influence the transitional arrangements themselves with a specific focus on international aspects including norms actors and related forms of expertise In doing so the book builds a bridge between comparative constitutional law and international legal scholarship in the practical and highly dynamic terrain of transitional governance This book will be of much interest to practitioners and students of international law diplomacy mediation security studies and international relations

Sustainability in Developing Countries Susan Osireditse Keitumetse, Luc Hens, David Norris, 2020-10-08 This book illustrates an alternative approach to state of sustainability reporting by presenting cross sectoral and multi disciplinary discussions on sustainability issues in the context of a developing country Botswana The book volume illustrates how academic publishing can supplement African governments existing forms of reporting on sustainability by providing on ground detailed descriptions and experiences relating to achievement of the various sustainable development goals SDGs In addition this process involves increases and enhances diversity of stakeholders that report on sustainability Furthermore the approach resonates with the UN s recommendation to build local strategies for implementation of the 2030 agenda for sustainable development Conventional reporting on sustainability by most African countries is an exercise that is customarily the preserve of designated government ministries While this form of reporting provides a consistent platform for tracking sustainable development goals it can also benefit from juxtaposition with in depth descriptions and experiences provided by academic publishing Academia through publishing provides a framework for on ground situation analysis as well as in depth descriptions of African country s grass root experiences thus allowing for temporal tracking of sustainable development milestones As this volume illustrates experiences from the various contributors on this volume highlight different points of departure towards achieving the 2030 agenda Topics covered include biodiversity water management world heritage environment education tourism gender institutional approaches to achievement of SDGs as well as contribution of non governmental organisations NGO s amongst others

Bureaucracy, Law and Dystopia in the United Kingdom's Asylum System John R. Campbell, 2016-12-01 The central concern of this book is to find answers to fundamental questions about the British asylum system and how it operates Based on ethnographic research over a two year period the work follows and analyses numerous asylum appeals through the British courts It draws on myriad interviews with individuals and a thorough examination of many state and non state organizations to understand how the system works While the organization of the book reflects the formal asylum process a focus on specific legal appeals reveals the political factors at play as different institutions and actors seek to influence judicial decision making and overturn uphold official asylum policy The final chapter draws on the author's ethnographic findings of the UK's asylum field to re-examine research on the Refugee Determination System in the US Canada and Australia which has narrowly focused on judicial decision making It argues that analysis of Refugee Determination Systems must be situated and studied as part of a wider political semi-autonomous asylum field which needs to be better understood Providing an in-depth ethnographic study of a national asylum system and of immigration law and practice the book will be an invaluable resource for academics researchers and policy makers in the UK and beyond working in this highly topical area

Urban Recycling Cooperatives Jutta Gutberlet, 2016-05-12 Solid waste is a major urban challenge worldwide and decisions over which technologies or methods to apply can have beneficial or detrimental long-term consequences Inappropriate management of solid waste can lead to damaging environmental impacts particularly in the megacities of the Global South Urban Recycling Cooperatives explores the multiple narratives and interdisciplinary nature of waste studies drawing attention to the pressing social economic and environmental challenges related to waste management The book asks questions such as how do we define waste and our relation to it who is involved in dealing with waste and what power interactions become manifest over issues of accessing and managing waste In recent years informal cooperatives have emerged devoted to recycling household and business waste before reclassifying it and redirecting it to the authorities Hence these workers are able to reclaim significant amounts of natural resources and thus contribute to the saving of resources and lessened waste management expenditures With particular reference to the Brazilian megalopolis of S o Paulo this book describes this paradigm shift in the general understanding of waste as unwanted discard towards the recognition of waste as a resource that must be recovered for reuse or recycling It would be of interest to students and policy makers working in international development and waste management The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license design Gender, Unpaid Work and Care in India Ellina Samantroy, Subhalakshmi Nandi, 2022-05-09 This book explores the paradox of women's paid and unpaid work in India. It examines key themes including historical discourses, macroeconomic policies, employment trends, issues of tribal areas, public services and infrastructure, climate change and gendered migration and vulnerability of girl children. It highlights the play of gender norms, resource rights, identities and agency in women's work. Building on feminist theoretical frameworks and empirical analyses from microstudies, the volume offers fresh perspectives for research and policy on women's work in the Global South. A timely intervention, this multidisciplinary book will be useful to scholars and researchers of political economy, labour studies, women's gender studies, public policy, economics, development studies, sociology, South Asian studies and Global South studies. It will interest planners, policymakers, gender advocates, civil society organisations, human rights bodies and international organisations working towards ensuring gender equality and women's rights.

Development Policy in Africa G. Kararach, 2014-10-28 The author investigates the agenda for transformation in contemporary African development studies, policy studies, strategic studies, international relations and economic diplomacy. With a focus on the capacity dimension, he proposes critical policy and action-oriented recommendations on how to overcome present and future emergencies in Africa.

Handbook of Water Resources Management: Discourses, Concepts and Examples Janos J. Bogardi, Joyeeta Gupta, K. D. Wasantha Nandalal, Léna Salamé, Ronald R.P. van Nooijen, Navneet Kumar, Tawatchai Tingsanchali, Anik Bhaduri, Alla G. Kolechkina, 2021-06-12 This book provides an overview of facts, theories and methods from hydrology, geology, geophysics, law, ethics, economics, ecology, engineering, sociology, diplomacy and many other disciplines with relevance for concepts and practice of water resources management. It provides comprehensive but also critical reading material for all communities involved in the ongoing water discourses and debates. The book refers to case studies in the form of boxes, sections or as entire chapters. They illustrate success stories but also lessons to be remembered to avoid repeating the same mistakes. Based on consolidated state-of-the-art knowledge, it has been conceived and written to attract a multidisciplinary audience. The aim of this handbook is to facilitate understanding between the participants of the international water discourse and multi-level decision-making processes. Knowing more about water but also about concepts, methods and aspirations of different professional disciplinary communities and stakeholders professionalizes the debate and enhances the decision-making.

Reconceptualising education support services in South Africa Johnnie Hay, Macalane J. Malindi, Thabo Makhalemele, 2022-02-10 Inclusive education has been phased into South Africa since 2001 but relies heavily upon adequate support services to support learners and teachers experiencing barriers to learning and development. This book focuses on the different levels of support provided in South African education from School-based Support Teams to District-based Support Teams through to special and full-service schools and how these could be reconceptualised to provide improved support to learners and teachers. Current research indicates that inclusive education is being implemented in varied and fragmented forms across the country.

and the point of departure of this work is that education support services need to be improved and reconceptualised to ensure better support for inclusive education
