 experts to investigate the media transmitted history of the twentieth century as it exists in the memories and minds of people living in diverse cultures across the globe This book compares media related childhood memories across three generations in nine countries Results reveal that events of the past century are not only historical facts but have become substantial elements of a new global collective memory that has been integrated into generational identity worldwide The global approach of this research encourages the idea that the world is an interconnected whole but it also helps to advance a better understanding of the different perceptions of global and local news as they emerge from various cultural angles and

Between Worlds Linda Chisholm,2017-11-30 How the story of how missionary schools adopted the Bantu education reforms gives insight into the ongoing legacy of the apartheid in the South African educational system The transition from apartheid to the post apartheid era has highlighted questions about the past and the persistence of its influence in present day South Africa This is particularly so in education where the past continues to play a decisive role in relation to inequality Between Worlds German Missionaries and the Transition from Mission to Bantu Education in South Africa scrutinises the experience of a hitherto unexplored German mission society probing the complexities and paradoxes of social change in education It raises challenging questions about the nature of mission education legacies Linda Chisholm shows that the transition from mission to Bantu Education was far from seamless Instead past and present interpenetrated one another with resistance and compliance cohabiting in a complex new social order At the same time as missionaries complied with the new Bantu Education dictates they sought to secure a role for themselves in the face of demands of local communities for secular state controlled education When the latter was implemented in a perverted form from the mid 1950s one of its tools was textbooks in local languages developed by mission societies as part of a transnational project with African participation Introduced under the guise of expunging European control Bantu Education merely served to reinforce such control The response of local communities was an attempt to domesticate and master the foreign body of the mission so as to create access to a larger world This book focuses on the ensuing struggle fought on many fronts including medium of instruction and textbook content with concomitant sub texts relating to gender roles and sexuality South Africa's educational history is to this day informed by networks of people and ideas crossing geographic and racial boundaries The colonial legacy has inevitably involved cultural mixing and hybridisation with paradoxically parallel pleas for purity Chisholm explores how these ideas found expression in colliding and coalescing worlds one African the other European caught between mission and apartheid education Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper John Albert Sleicher,1879 Research in Education ,1969-05

Introduction to Gender Studies in Eastern and Southern Africa James Etim,2016-07-28 Africa has witnessed massive changes in the last fifty years from independence through structural adjustment rule by military juntas in several countries and to a period now where the focus is on how best to prioritize their needs based on resources national goals and human potential There is general agreement that human capital is important in economic growth and development There is always the need to ensure that resources and human capital are used appropriately to advance development Gender disparities whether in treatment access to resources resource utilization and the law may in themselves retard or slow down development Resources and human potential in all societies include how best to ensure there is no gender disparity and to fully tap the resources inherent in women for personal social and national development Beginning with the women s suffrage movement there has been the push to encourage gender equality worldwide The Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing in 1995 embodies the commitment of the international community to implement policies that will enhance the political social economic educational empowerment of women This book highlights the issues affecting women in Eastern and Southern Africa what role does custom and patriarchy play in gender disparities in education access to health problems in the workplace and family relationships How have women writers in the last twenty years presented the issues of patriarchy women s rights globalism and women s holistic development What are recent developments that have helped improve the situation for some women These are some of the issues that are covered in this book The thesis of this book is that there have been policies and strategies developed that have worked to empower women However vestiges of sexism gender disparities in several fields still remain and traditions customs and patriarchy have aided in still keeping women down div div The Illustrated London News ,1879 Emerging South Africa ,2006 The Natal Agricultural Journal and Mining Journal ,1907 Natal Agriculture Journal ,1907
