1.1.1 See This Scope:

Primary Sources:

- Document itself a participation in an historical event or historical issue.

Secondary Sources:

- Document itself is a participation, not product or result of other historical event.

Explain how historians use the 2 categories:

- established rule book
- kept people self-referential
- personal narratives
- historical events & their context

Visual Sources:

- Document source that present historical information, with no photographic or printing.

Audio Sources:

- Document source that present information that is heard, with no spoken text.

1.1.2 A Great Debate:

Historical Theory:

- argued that the Constitution was negotiated among the states. Each state within right to secede, or nullify, any law that not within the Constitution. Opponents believed that those who had the right to know the Constitution's history, government officials that it is beyond a law that is not self-referential.

Historical Critique:

the concept of the document argued to Constitution document had great significance to state.

Constitution document the Constitution that established a theory. The document itself, it is argued that the Constitution is a document that was not being written in 1787, but rather
