Josef Ploner, Patrick Naef

Tourism September 2014 Question Paper:

Tourism and Water Stefan Gössling, C. Michael Hall, Daniel Scott, 2015-04-01 This book provides a systematic and comprehensive guide to the current state of knowledge on tourism and water. It is the first book to thoroughly examine the interrelationships of tourism and water use based on global, regional and business perspectives. Its assessment of tourism's global impact along with its overviews of sectoral and management approaches will provide a benchmark by which the water sustainability of tourism will be measured for years to come. In making a clear case for greater awareness and enhanced water management in the tourism sector, it is hoped that the book will contribute to the wise and sustainable use of this critical resource. The book is interdisciplinary in coverage and international in scope. It is designed as essential reading for not only students of tourism but also practitioners.

Tourism, Conflict and Contested Heritage in Former Yugoslavia Josef Ploner, Patrick Naef, 2018-12-07 Described as cultural crossroads or mosaic, powder keg, border bridge or Europe's Other, the region comprising former Yugoslavia has over time conjured up ambiguous imaginaries associated with political unrest, national contest and ethnic divide. Since the disintegration of Yugoslavia and the succeeding Yugoslav Wars of the 1990s, both the geography and historiography of the region have been thoroughly reconfigured, which has impacted the ways in which heritage is interpreted and used at local, regional and national levels. In this ongoing process of heritage re-interpretation, tourism is more than just a dark spectacle. While it can be seen as a catalyst through which to filter or normalise dissonant memories, it can also be utilised as a powerful ideological tool which enables the narrative reinvention of contested traditions and divisive myths. Drawing on case studies from Bosnia Herzegovina, Croatia and Kosovo, this volume generates new and fascinating insights into the contested terrain of heritage tourism in former Yugoslavia. It explores the manifold ways in which tourism stakeholders engage with, capitalise on and make sense of sites and events marked by conflict and trauma. Unlike many previous studies, this book features contributions by emerging early career scholars emanating from within the region and working across disciplines such as anthropology, art history, geography and political studies. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Tourism and Cultural Change.

and behaviours have evolved in the context of political transnationalism and the global economy Comparative and econometric studies of migration can provide a wide lens but at times fail to capture the depth and complexity of these communities and attitudes within them At the same time empirically focused studies are often case specific and while rich in local detail lack comparative breadth or the ability to make connections and see irregularities across a number of contexts that might be of interest to scholars beyond that specific area This book connects these literatures together more thoroughly In particular it demonstrates that political cultural economic and social factors all play important roles in helping us understand the actual and potential roles of migrant communities in conflict and the establishment of sustainable security within contemporary society Lastly given this context the book seeks to examine the challenges and opportunities that exist for such a sustainable security strategy to be developed This book will be of much interest to students of migration and diaspora communities peace and conflict studies security studies and ethnic conflict
