Languaging Experiences Hadrian Lankiewicz, Emilia Wąsikiewicz-Firlej, 2014-04-11 This book is dedicated to the notion of languaging which has recently gained recognition across many disciplines From philosophy to linguistics the foundations of the concept rest on the assumption that language is a way of knowing making personal sense of the world becoming conscious of oneself and a means of creating one's identity. The very notion of languaging is still a fresh and unexplored concept in applied linguistics and deserves careful scrutiny. For this reason, the volume is Brokering Britain, Educating Citizens by Melanie Cooke and Rob Peutrell, 2019-09-16. This book addresses the politically charged issue of citizenship and English language learning among adult migrants in the UK. Whilst citizenship learning is inherent in English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL), the book argues that top-down approaches and externally designed curricula are not a productive or useful approach. Meaningful citizenship education in adult ESOL is possible, however, if it brings social and political content centre stage alongside pedagogy which develops the capabilities for active grassroots participatory citizenship. The chapters deliver a detailed examination of citizenship and ESOL in the UK. They address a range of community and college-based settings and the needs and circumstances of different groups of ESOL students, including refugees, migrant mothers, job seekers, and students with mental health needs. The book draws attention to the crucial role of ESOL teachers as brokers of citizenship, mediating between national policy and the experiences and needs of adult migrant students. The book links together language pedagogy and citizenship theory with the practical concerns of ESOL teachers and students.

Viral Sovereignty and the Political Economy of Pandemics by Sophal Ear, 2021-11-28. Over the past few decades, a number of emerging infectious diseases (EIDs) have disrupted societies throughout the world, including HIV, Ebola, H5N1 or avian flu, and SARS, and of course the coronavirus disease COVID-19, which spread worldwide to become a global pandemic. As well as EIDs, countries and regions also contend with endemic diseases such as malaria. There are many factors that have contributed to the rise in and spread of EIDs and other diseases, including overpopulation, rapid urbanization, environmental degradation, and antibiotic resistance. Political and cultural responses to disease can greatly affect their spread. The global community needs to defend itself against disease threats; one weak link is enough to start a chain reaction that results in a global pandemic, such as COVID-19. Some states take a nationalistic approach towards combating disease, however, international cooperation and meaningful viral sovereignty, empowering countries to create effective health institutions and surveillance systems in order to contain disease, must be considered. This volume, with a focus on Southeast Asia, Africa, and North America, considers the intersection between disease, politics, science, and culture in the global battle against pandemics, making use of case studies and interviews to examine the ways in which governments and regions handle outbreaks and pandemics.

Compound Solutions Susan Craddock, 2017-02-21 Claiming 1.5 million lives in 2015 tuberculosis is the world's most deadly infectious disease Because of the population it overwhelmingly affects however pharmaceutical companies are uninterested in developing better drugs for the disease Compound Solutions examines Product Development Partnerships PDPs which arose early in the twenty first century to develop new drugs and vaccines for infectious diseases in low income countries Here for the first time is a sustained examination of PDPs the work they do the partnerships they form their mission and their underlying philosophy of addressing global health needs with implications that extend well beyond tuberculosis Focusing on two PDPs for tuberculosis the Global Alliance for TB Drug Development TB Alliance and Aeras a nonprofit focused on vaccine development Susan Craddock argues that PDPs do much more than product development As innovative sites of humanitarian pharmaceutical production they are contravening mainstream pharmaceutical production by tying drug and vaccine research to global health needs rather than shareholder demand In largely untethering the profit incentive from pharmaceutical production Craddock shows PDPs exhibit more creative and efficient scientific practices reshaping regulatory norms and implementing more ethical forms of clinical trials that enhance community engagement and capacity building An unparalleled interdisciplinary analysis of PDPs as politically socially scientifically and economically innovative sites of pharmaceutical production Compound Solutions is a must for readers in the fields of public health science and technology studies and medical social science     Routledge Handbook of Sports Event Management Milena Parent, Jean-Loup Chappelet, 2017-07-14 From the Olympic Games to community level competitions sports events can be complex and pose a particular set of managerial challenges The Routledge Handbook of Sports Event Management surveys the management of sports events around the world of every size and scale from small to mega events including one off and recurring events and single sport and multi sport events The book adopts a unique stakeholder perspective structured around the groups and individuals who have an interest in and co create sports events including organising committees promoters sport organisations spectators community groups sponsors host governments the media and NGOs Each chapter addresses a specific stakeholder defines that stakeholder and its relationships with sports events describes the managerial requirements for a successful event assesses current research and directions for future research and outlines the normative dimensions of stakeholder engagement such as sustainability and legacy No other book takes such a broad view of sports event management surveying key theory current research best practice and moral and ethical considerations in one volume With contributions from leading sport and event scholars from around the world the Routledge Handbook of Sports Event Management is essential reading for any advanced student researcher or professional with an interest in sport management sport development sport policy or events     Fire on the Water Robert Haddick, 2014-09-15 The main theme of Fire on the Water is that conventional measures of military balance employed by both the general public and many policy experts underestimate the threat that China's military modernization poses to the U S position in the Asia Pacific region Within a decade China's leaders will have the military power to hold at risk U S interest in East Asia The U S needs to fashion a new and competitive strategy one that better matches the strengths of the U S and its allies against China's vulnerabilities in order to maintain a balance of power in the region and convince China's leaders to pursue a cooperative course It is not obvious to many observers why a conflict in the region is plausible or why the U S should bear the responsibility for maintaining a forward military presence in the region China has rapidly emerged as a great power and by doing so has acquired many vital interests around the world Following the pattern set by other such episodes in history China is also acquiring the military means to protect its new interests a development that puts at risk the interests of China's neighbors and the United States The U S forward military presence in the region is an increasingly difficult burden to sustain But in the long run this approach will be less costly and less risky than encouraging China's neighbors to balance China by themselves an alternative that will very likely result in an unstable arms race and a conflict that will damage America's interests While it will be in America's interest to maintain its position in the Asia Pacific region China's military modernization is making it much more difficult for the U S to do so China's military strategy centered on its rapidly expanding land based and anti ship missile forces is exploiting weaknesses in long standing U S force structure and doctrine Due to a variety of institutional barriers the U S has been slow to adapt to China's military modernization Current efforts to respond are impractical in that they expend U S resources against China's strengths rather than its vulnerabilities The U S needs a new and competitive strategy that will strengthen its alliances in the region and convince China s leaders that cooperation rather than military expansion and an attempt at regional hegemony will be China s best course Fire on the Water proposes reforms to U S diplomacy military programs and strategy that will offer a better chance at preserving stability The goal of these reforms is to thwart China s well designed military modernization plan bolster the confidence and credibility of U S alliances in the region and thus persuade China s leaders that China s best course is cooperation rather than conflict the outcome that has usually occurred in history when a new great power has rapidly emerged
