Planet Earth

How much do you know about your home? No, not the house or apartment you live in—our planet, Earth. It's big and round, and it's where we all live. Can you name the continents and the oceans? Do you know where the coldest place on the Earth is found? Do you know the Earth's largest island? This issue will give you lots of information about your home, planet Earth!

Get in groups of six, or eight and get a globe in the middle of each group. (You'll probably need to borrow some globes from other classrooms.) Look at the large bodies of water on the planet. Did you know the Pacific Ocean is the largest and deepest of all the oceans? See all those large landmasses? You probably know they are called continents. Some books say there are seven continents, with the Ural Mountains of Russia being the dividing line between Europe and Asia. Others say there is only one continent, Eurasia. Scientists say the continents are about 25 miles thick (40-kilometers). You'll need a very big shovel to dig to the other side. Did you know the landmasses on the Earth are constantly moving?

Don't worry, you don't need a seat belt. The continents are only moving about 1 to 3 inches a year.

Next, find India or Italy. These countries are called peninsulas. A peninsula is land that is surrounded on three sides by water. Can you find other examples?

Find the water separating the state of Alaska from Russia. This is called the Bering Strait. A strait is a narrow section of water connecting two larger bodies of water. Can you name these bodies of water? The opposite of a strait is called an isthmus. Can you find a long narrow body of land connecting two larger bodies of land? Central America is probably the most famous isthmus. It connects North and South America.

Find the European country of Switzerland. Like the states of Iowa and Kansas, Switzerland is a landlocked area. Landlocked means it doesn't touch any bodies of water. Can you find other countries of the world that are

Philanthropy and Values

Maybe you have heard the word "philanthropy" before. What does it mean? It describes actions that people make for the good of other people. What is a value? It's a way of believing that people believe is good—like believing it's good to be honest. Is honesty one of your values?

One way you can practice philanthropy today is to help yourself and others learn good values. How do you learn good values? You can learn them from your parents and grandparents, your teachers at school or church and other people you trust.

You can also learn them from people that have been recognized for doing good things for society. An easy way to learn about people that have done good things is to visit values.com. Values.com has lots of stories and short videos that highlight the traits that make each of us better people. They even have billboards on the highway to remind you about good values.

For example, you may have seen a billboard that looks like the one shown here.

This billboard is about Orel Lee Brown, who saved money from her job to send 19 kids to college—all by herself! Wow! Isn't that cool? You can learn about lots of other people who practice philanthropy at values.com. Be sure to look for more of their "billboards" on Page 4 of Studies Weekly this year. We think they're so cool we want to remind you to check them out!

"Why Won't You Just Tell Us the Answer?" Bruce Lesh,2023-10-10 Every major measure of students historical understanding since 1917 has demonstrated that students do not retain understand or enjoy their school experiences with history Bruce Lesh believes that this is due to the way we teach historylecture and memorization Over the last fifteen years Bruce has refined a method of teaching history that mirrors the process used by historians where students are taught to ask questions of evidence and develop historical explanations And now in his new book Why Won t You Just Tell Us the Answer

he shows teachers how to successfully implement his methods in the classroom Students may think they want to be given the answer Yet when they are actively engaged in investigating the past the way professional historians do they find that history class is not about the boring memorization of names dates and facts Instead it s challenging fun Historical study that centers on a question where students gather a variety of historical sources and then develop and defend their answers to that question allows students to become actual historians immersed in an interpretive study of the past Each chapter focuses on a key concept in understanding history and then offers a sample unit on how the concept can be taught Readers will learn about the following Exploring Text Subtext and Context President Theodore Roosevelt and the Panama Canal Chronological Thinking and Causality The Rail Strike of 1877 Multiple Perspectives The Bonus March of 1932 Continuity and Change Over Time Custer s Last Stand Historical Significance The Civil Rights Movement Historical Empathy The Truman MacArthur Debate By the end of the book teachers will have learned how to teach history via a lens of interpretive questions and interrogative evidence that allows both student and teacher to develop evidence based answers to history s greatest questions
