Modelling Trends in Solid and Hazardous Waste Management Debashish Sengupta,Sudha Agrahari,2017-01-07 This book explores state of art techniques based on methodological and modeling aspects of solid and hazardous waste management specifically focusing on the recent trends in data acquisition and robust modeling of the results obtained In addition to an in depth description of the recent regulatory paradigm for solid waste disposal and revealing insights into solid waste management models the book also addresses significant case history and remediation methodologies for sustainable development in emerging economies like India China and Brazil The main emphasis is on a suitable regulatory framework with site specific baseline calibration and aimed at the robust modeling of contaminant transport and its remediation This is based on instructive case history in various locations regions worldwide The focus on recent modeling and quantification methods is the backbone of the book One of the major aspects discussed is the application of non invasive methods for studies related to the Earth s interior which are increasingly preferred over invasive techniques thanks to their economic utility as well as robust techniques for the interpretation of geophysical data The increasing demand for groundwater and energy resources especially for rapidly emerging countries with large populations like India and China has made it vital to derive safe utilization approaches for our resources including suitable waste disposal and remediation methodologies that can be adopted for contaminated sites

REDD+ policy implementation and institutional interplay Gakou-Kakeu, J.,Di Gregorio, M.,Paavola, J.,Sonwa, D.J.,2020-12-21 There is evidence that institutions related to climate change and natural resource management influence each other s performance and that local settings also shape policy outcomes We examine how policy implementation processes and institutional interactions affect the Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and Forest Degradation REDD program in Cameroon Research on REDD implementation has focused on resource tenure benefit sharing and participation giving less attention to how implementation paradigms and other institutions affect REDD We combine a policy implementation framework with the theories of institutional interaction to examine how REDD implementation typologies and interactions with forestry regulations influence the outcomes of three REDD pilot projects in South and West Cameroon Drawing from focus group discussions with project beneficiaries and interviews with local stakeholders and land users we find that REDD projects epitomize political implementation in the South and experimental implementation in the West We also indicate how project outcomes have been affected by rules regarding community forests reforestation and timber processing Our findings suggest that policy designers ability to satisfy community preferences is important for projects outcomes in the South and that resource availability and social capital are pivotal in the West Incentives to promote local timber processing improve forest governance and expedite decentralization would improve REDD project implementation in Cameroon Climate Change and Cities Cynthia Rosenzweig, William D. Solecki, Patricia Romero-Lankao, Shagun Mehrotra, Shobhakar Dhakal, Somayya Ali Ibrahim, 2018-03-29 The Urban Climate Change Research Network's Second Assessment Report on Climate Change in Cities ARC3 2 is the second in a series of global science based reports to examine climate risk adaptation and mitigation efforts in cities The book explicitly seeks to explore the implications of changing climatic conditions on critical urban physical and social infrastructure sectors and intersectoral concerns The primary purpose of ARC3 2 is to inform the development and implementation of effective urban climate change policies leveraging ongoing and planned investments for populations in cities of developing emerging and developed countries This volume like its predecessor will be invaluable for a range of audiences involved with climate change and cities mayors city officials and policymakers urban planners policymakers charged with developing climate change mitigation and adaptation programs and a broad spectrum of researchers and advanced students in the environmental sciences Fractured Land Lisa Westberg Peters, 2014-09-23 Popular Science, 2007-08 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better Building Natural Capital United Nations Environment Programme. International Resource Panel. Working Group on Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and Forest Degradation (REDD+) and a Green Economy, 2014 This report provides a concise summary of the elements necessary for integrating REDD into a Green Economy It provides policymakers with innovative ideas for supporting economic development while maintaining or increasing forest cover Those promoting a Green Economy can see how REDD can add important momentum to their efforts especially complimenting pro poor strategies Business leaders will learn how REDD and the Green Economy can improve investment conditions leverage their investments and ultimately increase long term returns on investments Students and the general public will increase their understanding of why REDD and the Green Economy together provide a pathway to sustainable development that benefits all countries Tax Practice Manual Bill Packer, W.
